About College Board

College Board is a mission-driven not-for-profit organization that connects students to college success and opportunity. Founded in 1900, College Board was created to expand access to higher education. Today, the membership association is made up of over 6,000 of the world's leading educational institutions and is dedicated to promoting excellence and equity in education. Each year, College Board helps more than seven million students prepare for a successful transition to college through programs and services in college readiness and college success—including the SAT® and the Advanced Placement® Program. The organization also serves the education community through research and advocacy on behalf of students, educators, and schools.

For further information, visit collegeboard.org.

AP Equity and Access Policy

College Board strongly encourages educators to make equitable access a guiding principle for their AP programs by giving all willing and academically prepared students the opportunity to participate in AP. We encourage the elimination of barriers that restrict access to AP for students from ethnic, racial, and socioeconomic groups that have been traditionally underrepresented. Schools should make every effort to ensure their AP classes reflect the diversity of their student population. College Board also believes that all students should have access to academically challenging coursework before they enroll in AP classes, which can prepare them for AP success. It is only through a commitment to equitable preparation and access that true equity and excellence can be achieved.

About AP

College Board’s Advanced Placement® Program (AP®) enables willing and academically prepared students to pursue college-level studies—with the opportunity to earn college credit, advanced placement, or both—while still in high school. Through AP courses in 38 subjects, each culminating in a challenging exam, students learn to think critically, construct solid arguments, and see many sides of an issue—skills that prepare them for college and beyond. Taking AP courses demonstrates to college admission officers that students have sought the most challenging curriculum available to them, and research indicates that students who score a 3 or higher on an AP Exam typically experience greater academic success in college and are more likely to earn a college degree than non-AP students. Each AP teacher’s syllabus is evaluated and approved by faculty from some of the nation’s leading colleges and universities, and AP Exams are developed and scored by college faculty and experienced AP teachers. Most four-year colleges and universities in the United States grant credit, advanced placement, or both on the basis of successful AP Exam scores; more than 3,300 institutions worldwide annually receive AP scores.

AP Course Development

In an ongoing effort to maintain alignment with best practices in college-level learning, AP courses and exams emphasize challenging, research-based curricula aligned with higher education expectations.

Individual teachers are responsible for designing their own curriculum for AP courses, selecting appropriate college-level readings, assignments, and resources. This course and exam description presents the content and skills that are the focus of the corresponding college course and that appear on the AP Exam. It also organizes the content and skills into a series of units that represent a sequence found in widely adopted college textbooks and that many AP teachers have told us they follow in order to focus their instruction. The intention of this publication is to respect teachers’ time and expertise by providing a roadmap that they can modify and adapt to their local priorities and preferences. Moreover, by organizing the AP course content and skills into units, the AP Program is able to provide teachers and students with formative assessments—Personal Progress Checks—that teachers can assign throughout the year to measure student progress as they acquire content knowledge and develop skills.

Enrolling Students: Equity and Access

College Board strongly encourages educators to make equitable access a guiding principle for their AP programs by giving all willing and academically prepared students the opportunity to participate in AP. We encourage the elimination of barriers that restrict access to AP for students from ethnic, racial, and socioeconomic groups that have been traditionally underserved. College Board also believes that all students should have access to academically challenging coursework before they enroll in AP classes, which can prepare them for AP success. It is only through a commitment to equitable preparation and access that true equity and excellence can be achieved.

Offering AP Courses: The AP Course Audit

The AP Program unequivocally supports the principle that each school implements its own curriculum that will enable students to develop the content understandings and skills described in the course framework.

While the unit sequence represented in this publication is optional, the AP Program does have a short list of curricular and resource requirements that must be fulfilled before a school can label a course “Advanced Placement” or “AP.” Schools wishing to offer AP courses must participate in the AP Course Audit, a process through which AP teachers’ course materials are reviewed by college faculty. The AP Course Audit was created to provide teachers and administrators with clear guidelines on curricular and resource requirements for AP courses and to help colleges and universities validate courses marked “AP” on students’ transcripts. This process ensures that AP teachers’ courses meet or exceed the curricular and resource expectations that college and secondary school faculty have established for college-level courses.

The AP Course Audit form is submitted by the AP teacher and the school principal (or designated administrator) to confirm awareness and understanding of the curricular and resource requirements. A syllabus or course outline, detailing how course requirements are met, is submitted by the AP teacher for review by college faculty.

Please visit collegeboard.org/apcourseaudit for more information to support the preparation and submission of materials for the AP Course Audit.

How the AP Program Is Developed

The scope of content for an AP course and exam is derived from an analysis of hundreds of syllabi and course offerings of colleges and universities. Using this research and data, a committee of college faculty and expert AP teachers work within the scope of the corresponding college course to articulate what students should know and be able to do upon the completion of the AP course. The resulting course framework is the heart of this course and exam description and serves as a blueprint of the content and skills that can appear on an AP Exam.

The AP Test Development Committees are responsible for developing each AP Exam, ensuring the exam questions are aligned to the course framework. The AP Exam development process is a multiyear endeavor; all AP Exams undergo extensive review, revision, piloting, and analysis to ensure that questions are accurate, fair, and valid, and that there is an appropriate spread of difficulty across the questions.

Committee members are selected to represent a variety of perspectives and institutions (public and private, small and large schools and colleges), and a range of gender, racial/ethnic, and regional groups. A list of each subject's current AP Test Development Committee members is available on apcentral.collegeboard.org.

Throughout AP course and exam development, College Board gathers feedback from various stakeholders in both secondary schools and higher education institutions. This feedback is carefully considered to ensure that AP courses and exams are able to provide students with a college-level learning experience and the opportunity to demonstrate their qualifications for advanced placement or college credit.

How AP Exams Are Scored

The exam scoring process, like the course and exam development process, relies on the expertise of both AP teachers and college faculty. While multiple-choice questions are scored by machine, the free-response questions and through-course performance assessments, as applicable, are scored by thousands of college faculty and expert AP teachers. Most are scored at the annual AP Reading, while a small portion is scored online. All AP Readers are thoroughly trained, and their work is monitored throughout the Reading for fairness and consistency. In each subject, a highly respected college faculty member serves as Chief Faculty Consultant and, with the help of AP Readers in leadership positions, maintains the accuracy of the scoring standards. Scores on the free-response questions and performance assessments are weighted and combined with the results of the computer-scored multiple-choice questions, and this raw score is converted into a composite AP score on a 1–5 scale.

AP Exams are not norm-referenced or graded on a curve. Instead, they are criterion-referenced, which means that every student who meets the criteria for an AP score of 2, 3, 4, or 5 will receive that score, no matter how many students that is. The criteria for the number of points students must earn on the AP Exam to receive scores of 3, 4, or 5—the scores that research consistently validates for credit and placement purposes—include:

- The number of points successful college students earn when their professors administer AP Exam questions to them.
- The number of points researchers have found to be predictive that an AP student will succeed when placed into a subsequent, higher-level college course.
- Achievement-level descriptions formulated by college faculty who review each AP Exam question.

Using and Interpreting AP Scores

The extensive work done by college faculty and AP teachers in the development of the course and exam and throughout the scoring process ensures that AP Exam scores accurately represent students' achievement in the equivalent college course. Frequent and regular research studies establish the validity of AP scores as follows:

AP Score	Credit Recommendation	College Grade Equivalent
5	Extremely well qualified	A
4	Well qualified	A-, B+, B
3	Qualified	B-, C+, C
2	Possibly qualified	n/a
1	No recommendation	n/a

While colleges and universities are responsible for setting their own credit and placement policies, most private colleges and universities award credit and/or advanced placement for AP scores of 3 or higher. Additionally, most states in the U.S. have adopted statewide credit policies that ensure college credit for scores of 3 or higher at public colleges and universities. To confirm a specific college's AP credit/placement policy, a search engine is available at apstudent.org/creditpolicies.

BECOMING AN AP READER

Each June, thousands of AP teachers and college faculty members from around the world gather for seven days in multiple locations to evaluate and score the free-response sections of the AP Exams. Ninety-eight percent of surveyed educators who took part in the AP Reading say it was a positive experience.

There are many reasons to consider becoming an AP Reader, including opportunities to:

- Bring positive changes to the classroom: Surveys show that the vast majority of returning AP Readers—both high school and college educators—make improvements to the way they teach or score because of their experience at the AP Reading.

- Gain in-depth understanding of AP Exam and AP scoring standards: AP Readers gain exposure to the quality and depth of the responses from the entire pool of AP Exam takers, and thus are better able to assess their students' work in the classroom.
- Receive compensation: AP Readers are compensated for their work during the Reading. Expenses, lodging, and meals are covered for Readers who travel.
- Score from home: AP Readers have online distributed scoring opportunities for certain subjects. Check collegeboard.org/apreading for details.
- Earn Continuing Education Units (CEUs): AP Readers earn professional development hours and CEUs that can be applied to PD requirements by states, districts, and schools.

How to Apply

Visit collegeboard.org/apreading for eligibility requirements and to start the application process.

AP Resources and Supports

By completing a simple activation process at the start of the school year, teachers and students receive access to a robust set of classroom resources.

AP Classroom

AP Classroom is a dedicated online platform designed to support teachers and students throughout their AP experience. The platform provides a variety of powerful resources and tools to provide yearlong support to teachers and enable students to receive meaningful feedback on their progress.

UNIT GUIDES

Appearing in this publication and on AP Classroom, these planning guides outline all required course content and skills, organized into commonly taught units. Each unit guide suggests a sequence and pacing of content, scaffolds skill instruction across units, and provides tips on taking the AP Exam.

PERSONAL PROGRESS CHECKS

Formative AP questions for every unit provide feedback to students on the areas where they need to focus. Available online, Personal Progress Checks measure knowledge and skills through multiple-choice questions with rationales to explain correct and incorrect answers, and free-response questions with scoring information. Because the Personal Progress Checks are formative, the results of these assessments cannot be used to evaluate teacher effectiveness or assign letter grades to students, and any such misuses are grounds for losing school authorization to offer AP courses.*

PROGRESS DASHBOARD

This dashboard allows teachers to review class and individual student progress throughout the year. Teachers can view class trends and see where students struggle with content and skills that will be assessed on the AP Exam. Students can view their own progress over time to improve their performance before the AP Exam.

AP QUESTION BANK

This online library of real AP Exam questions provides teachers with secure questions to use in their classrooms. Teachers can find questions indexed by course topics and skills, create customized tests, and assign them online or on paper. These tests enable students to practice and get feedback on each question.

*To report misuses, please call, 877-274-6474 (International: +1-212-632-1781).

Digital Activation

In order to teach an AP class and make sure students are registered to take the AP Exam, teachers must first complete the digital activation process. Digital activation gives students and teachers access to resources and gathers students' exam registration information online, eliminating most of the answer sheet bubbling that has added to testing time and fatigue.

AP teachers and students begin by signing in to My AP and completing a simple activation process at the start of the school year, which provides access to all AP resources, including AP Classroom.

To complete digital activation:

- Teachers and students sign in to or create their College Board accounts.
- Teachers confirm that they have added the course they teach to their AP Course Audit account and have had it approved by their school's administrator.
- Teachers or AP Coordinators, depending on who the school has decided is responsible, set up class sections so students can access AP resources and have exams ordered on their behalf.
- Students join class sections with a join code provided by their teacher or AP Coordinator.
- Students will be asked for additional registration information upon joining their first class section, which eliminates the need for extensive answer sheet bubbling on exam day.

While the digital activation process takes a short time for teachers, students, and AP Coordinators to complete, overall it helps save time and provides the following additional benefits:

- Access to AP resources and supports: Teachers have access to resources specifically designed to support instruction and provide feedback to students throughout the school year as soon as activation is complete.
- Streamlined exam ordering: AP Coordinators can create exam orders from the same online class rosters that enable students to access resources. The coordinator reviews, updates, and submits this information as the school's exam order in the fall.
- Student registration labels: For each student included in an exam order, schools will receive a set of personalized AP ID registration labels, which replaces the AP student pack. The AP ID connects a student's exam materials with the registration information they provided during digital activation, eliminating the need for pre-administration sessions and reducing time spent bubbling on exam day.
- Targeted Instructional Planning Reports: AP teachers will get Instructional Planning Reports (IPRs) that include data on each of their class sections automatically rather than relying on special codes optionally bubbled in on exam day.

Instructional Model

Integrating AP resources throughout the course can help students develop skills and conceptual understandings. The instructional model outlined below shows possible ways to incorporate AP resources into the classroom.

Plan

Teachers may consider the following approaches as they plan their instruction before teaching each unit.

- Review the overview at the start of each unit guide to identify essential questions and conceptual understandings for each unit.
- Use the Unit at a Glance table to identify enduring understandings and skills for each unit.
- Identify useful strategies in the Instructional Approaches section to help teach the concepts and skills.

Teach

When teaching, supporting resources could be used to build students' conceptual understanding and their mastery of skills.

- Use the unit guides to identify the required readings.
- Integrate the content with skills, considering any appropriate scaffolding.
- Employ any of the instructional strategies previously identified.
- Use the comparative works to bring a variety of assets into the classroom.

Assess

Teachers can measure student understanding of the content and skills covered in the unit and provide actionable feedback to students.

- At the end of each unit, use AP Classroom to assign students the online Personal Progress Checks, as homework or an in-class task.
- Provide question-level feedback to students through answer rationales; provide unit- and skill-level feedback using the progress dashboard.
- Create additional practice opportunities using the AP Question Bank and assign them through AP Classroom.

About the AP Spanish Literature and Culture Course

The AP Spanish Literature and Culture course uses a thematic approach to introduce students to representative texts (short stories, novels, poetry, plays, and essays) from Peninsular Spanish, Latin American, and U. S. Hispanic literature. Students develop proficiencies across the three modes of communication (interpretive, interpersonal, and presentational) in the range of Intermediate High to Advanced Mid of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages' (ACTFL) Proficiency Guidelines. Through careful examination of the required readings and other texts, students work to hone their critical reading and analytical writing skills. Literature is explored within the contexts of its time and place, and students gain insights on the many voices, historical periods, and cultures represented in the required readings and other texts. The course also includes a strong focus on cultural, artistic, and linguistic connections and comparisons, which is supported by the exploration of various media (art, music, film, articles, and literary criticism).

College Course Equivalent

AP Spanish Literature and Culture is equivalent to a college or university survey course of literature written in Spanish at the first level counted towards a major in this subject area.

Prerequisites

While there are no prerequisites for this course, AP Spanish Literature and Culture is designed for students who have successfully completed at least three years of high school-level Spanish language study. While not a prerequisite, students may wish to complete the AP Spanish Language and Culture course before taking AP Spanish Literature and Culture, as the texts are presented in Spanish. In the case of native or heritage speakers, there may be a different pathway of study leading to this course.

AP SPANISH LITERATURE AND CULTURE

Course Framework

Introduction

The AP Spanish Literature and Culture course is designed to provide students with a learning experience equivalent to that of a college/university survey course in literature written in Spanish. This thematically based course introduces students to the formal study of a representative body of texts from Peninsular Spanish, Latin American, and U.S. Hispanic literature, including short stories, novels, poetry, drama, and essays, ranging from the Medieval period to the present.

The course provides opportunities for students to demonstrate their proficiency in Spanish across the three modes of communication (interpretive, interpersonal, and presentational) at the Intermediate High to Advanced Mid range of performance of ACTFL's Proficiency Guidelines. It includes exploration of the five goal areas (communication, cultures, connections, comparisons, and communities) outlined in ACTFL's World Readiness Standards for Learning Languages. The overarching aims of the course are to provide students with ongoing and varied opportunities to further develop their proficiencies across a range of language and analytical skills—with special attention to critical reading and analytical writing—and to encourage them to reflect on the many voices and cultures included in a rich and diverse body of literature written in Spanish.

The inclusion of “and Culture” in the title of the course reflects a purposeful alignment of the course to a standards-based Spanish curriculum. In particular, the course reflects a meaningful integration of the cultures, connections, and comparisons goal areas of ACTFL's World-Readiness Standards for Learning Languages. Emphasis is placed on approaching the study of literature through global, historical, and contemporary cultural contexts. Teachers and students are encouraged to make interdisciplinary connections and explore linguistic and cultural comparisons. A key objective of the course is to encourage students not only to understand and retell the content of the texts they read, but also to relate that content to literary, historical, sociocultural, and geopolitical contexts in Spanish.

The course is founded on a required reading list of 38 titles from the 14th century to the contemporary period, including works that are linguistically and thematically challenging. The ultimate goal is for students to read critically, think deeply, and write analytically to demonstrate their understanding of the representative texts and to apply what they have learned from the required texts to others. The study of the required texts is enhanced by the inclusion of other thematically related literary texts, works of art, music, and films to encourage exploration from multiple perspectives, as well as to encourage students to make connections and comparisons. Students should engage in class and small group discussions. They should also participate in independent and group research projects and share their findings in written or oral presentations.

The course aims to help students progress beyond reading comprehension to read with critical, historical, and literary sensitivity. This is an ambitious goal, but it is the hope that when students apply the methods of literary analysis suggested in the course, and focus their attention on linguistic detail coupled with critical interpretation and analysis of texts, they will acquire skills that they will be able to apply to many other areas of learning and life.

Course Framework Components

Overview

This course framework provides a clear and detailed description of the course requirements necessary for student success.

The course framework includes two essential components:

1 COURSE SKILLS

The course skills are central to the study and practice of Spanish literature and culture. Students should develop and apply the described skills on a regular basis over the span of the course.

2 COURSE CONTENT

The course content is organized into units of study that take a chronological approach to the study of the literary works. These units comprise the content that colleges and universities typically expect students to master to qualify for college credit and/or placement.

Course Skills

The AP Spanish Literature and Culture skills describe what a student should be able to do while exploring course concepts. The table that follows presents these skills, which students should develop through frequent repetition and practice during the AP Spanish Literature and Culture course. These skills form the basis of the tasks on the AP Exam.

The unit guides later in this publication spiral these skills throughout the course. Course content may be paired with a variety of skills on the AP Exam.

More detailed information about teaching the course skills can be found in the Instructional Approaches section of this publication.

Course Content

This course framework provides a clear and detailed description of the course requirements necessary for student success. The framework specifies what students must know, be able to do, and understand, with a focus on course skills, required texts, and themes that encompass core principles and theories of the discipline. The framework also encourages instruction that prepares students for advanced literature courses in Spanish and other college/university humanities courses by building skills in critical reading and literary analysis and contextualizing literary works within historical, geopolitical, sociocultural, and cultural contexts.

Required texts

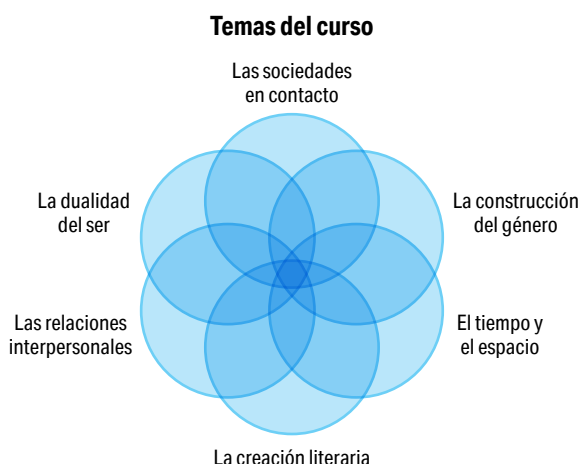

The content is grounded in the following 38 required texts. The required readings for this course and its exam sometimes present difficult human issues and situations that may be challenging for some students. Teachers should prepare, guide, and support their students as they engage with these texts.

- Isabel Allende, “Dos palabras”
- Anónimo, “Romance de la pérdida de Alhama”
- Anónimo, Lazarillo de Tormes (Prólogo; Tratados 1, 2, 3, 7)
- Gustavo Adolfo Bécquer, Rima LIII (“Volverán las oscuras golondrinas”)
- Jorge Luis Borges, “Borges y yo”
- Jorge Luis Borges, “El Sur”
- Julia de Burgos, “A Julia de Burgos”
- Miguel de Cervantes, Don Quijote (Primera parte, capítulos 1–5, 8 y 9; Segunda parte, capítulo 74)
- Julio Cortázar, “La noche boca arriba”
- Hernán Cortés, “Segunda carta de relación” (selecciones)
- Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz, “Hombres necios que acusáis”
- Rubén Darío, “A Roosevelt”
- Don Juan Manuel, Conde Lucanor, Exemplo XXXV (“De lo que aconteció a un mozo que casó con una mujer muy fuerte y muy brava”)
- Osvaldo Dragún, El hombre que se convirtió en perro

- Carlos Fuentes, "Chac Mool"
- Federico García Lorca, La casa de Bernarda Alba
- Federico García Lorca, "Prendimiento de Antoñito el Camborio en el camino de Sevilla"
- Gabriel García Márquez, "El ahogado más hermoso del mundo"
- Gabriel García Márquez, "La siesta del martes"
- Garcilaso de la Vega, Soneto XXIII ("En tanto que de rosa y azucena")
- Luis de Góngora, Soneto CLXVI ("Mientras por competir con tu cabello")
- Nicolás Guillén, "Balada de los dos abuelos"
- José María Heredia, "En una tempestad"
- Miguel León-Portilla, Visión de los vencidos (dos secciones: "Los presagios, según los informantes de Sahagún" y "Se ha perdido el pueblo mexicana")
- Antonio Machado, "He andado muchos caminos"
- José Martí, "Nuestra América"
- Rosa Montero, "Como la vida misma"
- Nancy Morejón, "Mujer negra"
- Pablo Neruda, "Walking around"
- Emilia Pardo Bazán, "Las medias rojas"
- Francisco de Quevedo, Salmo XVII ("Miré los muros de la patria mía")
- Horacio Quiroga, "El hijo"
- Tomás Rivera, ... y no se lo tragó la tierra (dos capítulos: "... y no se lo tragó la tierra" y "La noche buena")
- Juan Rulfo, "No oyes ladrar los perros"
- Alfonsina Storni, "Peso ancestral"
- Tirso de Molina, El burlador de Sevilla y convidado de piedra
- Sabine Ulibarrí, "Mi caballo mago"
- Miguel de Unamuno, San Manuel Bueno, mártir

Themes

The six required course themes in AP Spanish Literature and Culture provide a meaningful basis for making contextual connections among works of different genres, periods, movements, and techniques. Instruction should overlap the themes within the units instead of creating units that are organized around just one theme.

Under each theme there are four to six recommended organizing concepts that are provided to suggest ways to explore the themes and make meaningful contextual connections among works.

One way to design instruction using the themes and their organizing concepts is to create essential questions that serve to motivate students and guide classroom investigations, learning activities, and assessments. Essential questions are designed to spark students' curiosity and encourage them to consider how course content relates to larger questions and issues in the study of literature and in the humanities in general. Essential questions allow students to investigate and express different views on issues, make connections to other disciplines and compare products, practices, and perspectives of target cultures to their own.

Listed on the following pages are the six required course themes with their suggested organizing concepts, some sample essential questions, and sample groupings of the required texts. Teachers may create their own way of designing thematic instruction and may invent their own essential questions.

THEME 1: LAS SOCIEDADES EN CONTACTO

Organizing Concepts:

- La asimilación y la marginación
- La diversidad
- Las divisiones socioeconómicas
- El imperialismo
- El nacionalismo y el regionalismo

Essential Questions:

- ¿De qué manera las perspectivas de una cultura afectan la representación de eventos históricos?
- ¿Cómo los miembros de una minoría cultural se resisten (o se asimilan) a las costumbres y las perspectivas de la mayoría dominante?
- ¿Cómo se representan en obras literarias de distintos períodos y diversas culturas las relaciones entre grupos socioculturales (clases sociales, grupos étnicos, etc.)?

Sample Groupings of Required Readings:

- Anónimo, Lazarillo de Tormes; Dragún, El hombre que se convirtió en perro (Las divisiones socioeconómicas)
- Cortés, "Segunda carta de relación"; León-Portilla, Visión de los vencidos; Martí, "Nuestra América"; Darío, "A Roosevelt" (El imperialismo)

THEME 2: LA CONSTRUCCIÓN DEL GÉNERO

Organizing Concepts:

- El machismo
- Las relaciones sociales
- El sistema patriarcal
- La sexualidad
- La tradición y la ruptura

Essential Questions:

- ¿Cómo revela la literatura los cambios en la percepción de los géneros masculino y femenino?
- ¿De qué manera han servido los factores socioculturales como instrumentos de cambios (o no) en la representación de los géneros?
- ¿Cómo ha cambiado la representación de lo femenino (voces femeninas, personajes femeninos) a lo largo de la historia de la literatura?

Sample Groupings of Required Readings:

- Pardo Bazán, "Las medias rojas"; Burgos, "A Julia de Burgos"; Morejón, "Mujer negra"; Allende, "Dos palabras" (La tradición y la ruptura)
- Sor Juana, "Hombres necios que acusáis"; Storni, "Peso ancestral" (El sistema patriarcal)

THEME 3: EL TIEMPO Y EL ESPACIO

Organizing Concepts:

- El carpe diem y el memento mori
- El individuo en su entorno
- La naturaleza y el ambiente
- La relación entre el tiempo y el espacio
- El tiempo lineal y el tiempo circular
- La trayectoria y la transformación

Essential Questions:

- ¿Cómo presentan las literaturas de distintas culturas los conceptos del tiempo y el espacio?
- ¿De qué manera los autores se valen del tiempo y el espacio para construir una variedad de estados de ánimos o sentimientos (p. ej. la desorientación, la nostalgia, el remordimiento)?
- ¿Cómo se relacionan la representación del espacio y el manejo del tiempo en una obra literaria?

Sample Groupings of Required Readings:

- Quevedo, "Miré los muros de la patria mía"; Machado, "He andado muchos caminos"; Neruda, "Walking around" (El individuo en su entorno)
- Garcilaso, Soneto XXIII ("En tanto que de rosa y azucena"); Góngora, Soneto CLXVI ("Mientras por competir con tu cabello"); Bécquer, Rima LIII ("Volverán las oscuras golondrinas") (El carpe diem y el memento mori; La trayectoria y la transformación)

THEME 4: LAS RELACIONES INTERPERSONALES

Organizing Concepts:

- La amistad y la hostilidad
- El amor y el desprecio

- ¿De qué manera se transforma el/la protagonista de una obra a consecuencia de sus relaciones con otros personajes?
- ¿De qué manera los individuos contribuyen o perjudican al bienestar de la familia o la comunidad?
- ¿Cómo influye el contexto sociocultural en el desarrollo de las relaciones interpersonales?

Sample Groupings of Required Readings:

- Quiroga, “El hijo”; Rulfo, “No oyes ladrar los perros” (Las relaciones familiares)
- García Lorca, La casa de Bernarda Alba; Rivera, . . . y no se lo tragó la tierra (Las relaciones de poder; La comunicación o la falta de comunicación)

THEME 5: LA DUALIDAD DEL SER

Organizing Concepts:

- La construcción de la realidad
- La espiritualidad y la religión
- La imagen pública y la imagen privada
- La introspección
- El ser y la creación literaria

Essential Questions:

- ¿Qué preguntas plantea la literatura acerca de la realidad y la fantasía?
- ¿Cómo influye el contexto sociocultural o histórico en la expresión de la identidad?
- ¿Cuál es el significado de la vida (para un personaje, para un autor) y cómo se relaciona esto con las creencias o ideas en cuanto a la muerte?

Sample Groupings of Required Readings:

- Borges, “Borges y yo”; Unamuno, San Manuel Bueno, mártir (La imagen pública y la imagen privada)
- Cervantes, Don Quijote; Cortázar, “La noche boca arriba”; García Márquez, “El ahogado más hermoso del mundo” (La construcción de la realidad)

THEME 6: LA CREACIÓN LITERARIA

Organizing Concepts:

- La intertextualidad
- La literatura autoconsciente
- El proceso creativo
- El texto y sus contextos

Essential Questions:

- ¿Qué factores motivan a los escritores a crear sus obras literarias?
- ¿De qué manera la intertextualidad contribuye al significado de una obra literaria?
- ¿Cómo influye en la experiencia de los lectores la presencia de la literatura misma como tema de una obra literaria?

Sample Groupings of Required Readings:

- Don Juan Manuel, Conde Lucanor, Exemplo XXXV ("De lo que aconteció a un mozo que casó con una mujer muy fuerte y muy brava"); Anónimo, Lazarillo de Tormes (La literatura autoconsciente)
- Borges, "Borges y yo"; Cervantes, Don Quijote (El proceso creativo)

LITERARY TERMS

The literary terms used in AP Spanish Literature and Culture range from basic to advanced. The list of terms provided contains a representative selection of terms used in AP classes and in college and university courses including Introduction to Literary Analysis and survey courses of Peninsular and Latin American literatures. This list is neither prescriptive nor exhaustive; teachers may supplement the list as they wish for their instruction. The list of literary terms is intended to set a baseline expectation for the terms students should be able to identify, explain, and apply in their study of the texts on the required reading list.

The terms are grouped in a general progression in ability to interpret and analyze literary texts. Within each of the three groups, six categories are provided:

- General terms
- Terms that relate to narrative genres
- Terms that relate to poetic genres
- Terms that relate to dramatic genres
- Rhetorical figures
- Literary historical terms

When students are asked to engage in literary analysis, they should do so using the appropriate literary terms. Consistent practice in identifying, explaining, and applying literary terms with corrective feedback will develop students' abilities to use these terms effectively.

The Glossary of Literary Terms for the AP Spanish Literature and Culture Course provides additional details, definitions, and examples.

Progression of Literary Terms (from basic to advanced)

COMPARATIVE WORKS

An essential skill that students need to develop during the course and demonstrate on the exam is the ability to transfer what they learn from the required readings to other comparable works. To build this skill, students need frequent exposure to numerous literary and artistic works from and beyond those required in the course.

To this aim, examples of possible comparative texts and/or art works are included in each unit for ease of instruction and assessment. Some of the texts included are required readings studied in other units that align with the works being studied in the unit and reinforce understanding across the list. Making connections among works on the list provides multiple exposures to each text on the required reading list. Other suggested texts are nonrequired comparative works that serve to build skills in applying what has been learned from required texts to nonrequired ones. Ultimately, the goal is to develop students' abilities in identifying and understanding intertextuality while providing them with a wide variety of rich literary texts and art works.

Students should be encouraged to make every possible connection between works they have read or seen and the comparative texts and works of art. They should identify similarities in theme, style, point of view, tone, language, characters, plot lines, and cultural perspectives. It is also important that students learn to identify similarities and differences between texts.

UNITS

The course content is organized into units. The units have been arranged in a logical chronological sequence, as this is the most common approach to organizing the course.

Pacing recommendations at the unit level and on the Course at a Glance provide suggestions for how to teach the required course content and administer the Personal Progress Checks. The suggested class periods are based on a schedule in which the class meets five days a week for 45 minutes each day. While these recommendations have been made to aid planning, teachers should of course adjust the pacing based on the needs of their students, alternate schedules (e.g., block scheduling), or their school's academic calendar.

Course at a Glance

Plan

The Course at a Glance provides a useful visual organization of the AP Spanish Literature and Culture curricular components, including:

- Sequence of units, along with suggested pacing. Please note, pacing is based on 45-minute class periods, meeting five days each week for a full academic year.
- Course skills across units.

AP SPANISH LITERATURE AND CULTURE

Unit Guides

Introduction

Designed with extensive input from the community of AP Spanish Literature educators, the unit guides offer teachers helpful guidance in building students' skills and knowledge. The suggested sequence was identified through a thorough analysis of the syllabi of highly effective AP teachers and the organization of typical college textbooks.

This unit structure respects new AP teachers' time by providing one possible sequence they can adopt or modify rather than having to build from scratch. An additional benefit is that these units enable the AP Program to provide interested teachers with formative assessments—the Personal Progress Checks—that they can assign their students at the end of each unit to gauge progress toward success on the AP Exam. However, experienced AP teachers who are satisfied with their current course organization and exam results should feel no pressure to adopt these units, which comprise an optional sequence for this course.

 ~7-8 CLASS PERIODS

La época medieval

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS

- ¿Cómo se representan las diversas culturas y religiones de la época en las obras literarias?
- ¿De qué manera la perspectiva o el punto de vista afecta la representación de eventos históricos?
- ¿Qué aspectos de la literatura medieval todavía se reflejan en la literatura y la vida de hoy en día?

Developing Understanding

Medieval Spanish literature reflects the reality of the period. Linguistically, medieval Spanish is very different from contemporary Spanish, so it will be necessary to assist students with the language patterns for ease of comprehension. It is also important to note that oral tradition flourished during this period because few could read. Troubadours and juglares traveled from town to town sharing news and epic stories through song and poetry. Written texts were often accompanied by artwork to facilitate understanding for readers.

Building Course Skills

By the end of the AP Spanish Literature course, students should be able to perform the following five tasks for each required work: 1) explain the work's themes and compare them to others; 2) identify literary terms and analyze their effect in the work; 3) define the characteristics of the work's genre; 4) examine how the work reflects its literary period or movement; and 5) discuss the contexts that influenced the creation of the work. In this first unit students should be able to comprehend the texts that they read. To that end, teachers can provide opportunities for students to practice summarizing and paraphrasing the works, demonstrating that they understand the basic features (characters, setting, plot, etc.).

Students should be able to identify themes in the texts and explain how each theme is developed using examples from the text. They should also identify the structural, stylistic, and rhetorical devices being employed. It is also important to identify the characteristics of the texts that define each genre along with the aspects of the texts that represent the period.

Preparing for the AP Exam

To prepare students for the listening section of the AP Exam, teachers can use audio clips that discuss the events and political climate of the medieval period in Spain. Or, teachers can use audio selections that highlight the unique characteristics of the romance vigo tradition. For the multiple choice and free-response sections, students will need to focus on the development of themes and the characteristics of each genre, in addition to defining the sociohistorical contexts of the works from this unit. Teachers can assess student progress by asking them to identify the themes in each of the works and then select well-chosen examples. Teachers can also ask students to analyze the characteristics of the genres and define the contexts of the works.

SAMPLE INSTRUCTIONAL ACTIVITIES

The sample activities on this page are optional and are offered to provide possible ways to incorporate various instructional approaches into the classroom. They were developed in partnership with teachers from the AP community to share ways that they approach teaching some of the topics in this unit. Please refer to the Instructional Approaches section beginning on p. 153 for more examples of activities and strategies.

Activity	Skills	Sample Activity
1	1.A	Chunking the Text Assign each pair of students a different stanza from the poem, "Romance de la pérdida de Alhama." Ask them to interpret the stanza and explain what they think it means to the class. As pairs present, help guide the students through questioning and facilitate transitions from one stanza to another.
2	1.A, 1.C, 2.A	Marking the Text Have students use different colors of highlighters to mark names of important characters, settings, literary terms, and other key elements of the text while they read. They can also make notes in the margins to help them remember why each item is highlighted.
3	1.A, 2.A	Window Panes Have students illustrate the story, Conde Lucanor , using six drawings. Words should be used minimally. The six drawings should demonstrate a complete understanding of the story, including its cultural elements. After completing the drawings, have students work in pairs to retell the story in Spanish using only their window pane drawings.

2	1.A, 1.C, 2.A	Marking the Text Have students use different colors of highlighters to mark names of important characters, settings, literary terms, and other key elements of the text while they read. They can also make notes in the margins to help them remember why each item is highlighted.
3	1.A, 2.A	Window Panes Have students illustrate the story, Conde Lucanor , using six drawings. Words should be used minimally. The six drawings should demonstrate a complete understanding of the story, including its cultural elements. After completing the drawings, have students work in pairs to retell the story in Spanish using only their window pane drawings.

El siglo XVI

Developing Understanding

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS

- ¿De qué manera afecta el contexto histórico, sociocultural o geopolítico la creación literaria del siglo XVI?
- ¿Cómo afecta la cultura de los escritores en la representación de eventos o de la historia en un texto?
- ¿Cómo es posible saber si un narrador es fidedigno?

Literary works from the Spanish Renaissance—opening a period also known as the Golden Age—are the focus of Unit 2. The 16th century is also the era when the colonial period began in the Americas. Students will read works written on both sides of the Atlantic. This is an important moment in literature because the language develops from its medieval rudimentary forms into an art form. Students will become familiar with the characteristics of several different genres and be able to make comparisons to works introduced in the previous unit.

Building Course Skills

In this unit, students should continue building their comprehension skills by summarizing and paraphrasing the texts that they read. Students should be able to identify and describe the works' characters, plot, main ideas, and important events. They should move toward analysis by connecting themes to characters in and across texts. Students should also compare the themes and structural, stylistic, or rhetorical features of this unit's texts to texts they studied in Unit 1 and to artwork from the same period. Students will continue to expand their knowledge of the circumstances in which these texts were written through the study of historical, geopolitical, sociocultural, and other relevant contexts of each era. In their encounters with texts with more abstract meaning, students will move from comprehension to interpretation, discussion, and eventually, analysis.

Preparing for the AP Exam

In this unit, classroom activities can emphasize the thematic complexity of the texts, and students should practice expanding their academic vocabulary to discuss structural, stylistic, and rhetorical elements. Students should compare the features of one text to others on a regular basis. Teachers can introduce new short texts or text fragments similar to those on the reading list to help students continue practicing comparison. Attention should be focused on summarizing key passages of text, identifying literary terms, and comparing themes between required texts.

Students should be able to explain themes from the text and provide examples of thematic development. They should also be able to define and explore the characteristics of the genre, period, or movement and the literary techniques employed. Students often struggle to construct well-organized and effective essays. Teachers can help build their skills in essay writing by providing opportunities to work on an introduction with a strong thesis statement, development of their ideas with relevant examples, and a conclusion.

El siglo XVII

Developing Understanding

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS

- ¿De qué manera la intertextualidad contribuye al significado de una obra literaria?
- ¿Cómo se transforma un personaje a consecuencia de sus relaciones con otros personajes?
- ¿Cómo revela la literatura las perspectivas y las prácticas culturales en las relaciones entre los hombres y las mujeres del siglo XVII?

For Peninsular Spanish literature, the 17th century was the pinnacle of artistic production and comprised the second half of the Golden Age. However, it also marked the beginning of the decline of the Spanish empire. In this unit, students will encounter complex metaphors, syntax, and advanced vocabulary. Writers of this period employed these complexities as a way to criticize their social reality in a form of desengaño, or disillusionment. This provided the opportunity to question commonly held traditions and perspectives.

Building Course Skills

Due to the complexity of the texts in this unit, students should focus on understanding implied meanings and ambiguities, relying on the comprehension skills they practiced in the first two units. Students should be able to explain what and how the texts communicate to the reader. Texts in this unit share a rich, robust thematic complexity. Students should practice comparing themes from these works to those in nonrequired texts, texts from previous units, and artwork from the same period. They should be able to identify intermediate-level literary terms and explain how and/or why they are being used in the texts.

Students will encounter many of the same genres from Unit 2. Teachers can give them opportunities to compare how the genres have evolved. They should begin to comprehend both how the period is represented in the texts and how the period influenced the creation of the texts. Students should also identify cultural perspectives, practices, and products in the texts and make comparisons to those studied in previous units.

Preparing for the AP Exam

By Unit 3, students are ready to begin listening to author interviews in preparation for that portion of the AP Exam. Teachers can use interviews with contemporary authors where they discuss literature or their creative processes. Teachers can also incorporate audio recordings of 17th century poetry, clips that highlight important historical events or examine works of the period, and author biographies.

Students should be able to write essays comparing the uses and effects of literary figures and rhetorical devices, as well as comparing a theme that the works have in common. They should practice writing short-answers comparing artwork from the period to texts that share a common theme. Due to the variety of genres in this unit, students should practice writing essays in which they analyze the characteristics of the genre of one of the works by commenting on the work's structural and stylistic features. In the essay, they should also analyze cultural aspects from the period that appear in the work. Teachers can also provide opportunities for students to review prompts from past AP Exams and evaluate each other's samples to model effective written literary analysis.

SAMPLE INSTRUCTIONAL ACTIVITIES

The sample activities on this page are optional and are offered to provide possible ways to incorporate various instructional approaches into the classroom. They were developed in partnership with teachers from the AP community to share ways that they approach teaching some of the topics in this unit. Please refer to the Instructional Approaches section beginning on p. 153 for more examples of activities and strategies.

Activity	Skills	Sample Activity
1	1.A, 1.C	Read Alouds Select a text or fragment of text (e.g., the first two paragraphs of Don Quijote). Read it aloud to the class and pause to process it, taking time to unravel syntax and identify how literary figures and rhetorical devices are used. If possible, project the fragment of text and make notes while working through it to model how to annotate a text.
2	1.A, 4.A	Change of Perspective Have students recreate a scene from a studied text, but have them change a key element. For example, they could recreate a scene from El Burlador de Sevilla but change the setting to the present somewhere in the United States, or they could switch the genders of the characters.
3	2.B	Intertextualizing Great authors are often great readers who incorporate key elements from their favorite texts into their own works with their own personal touch. Have students compare Soneto XXIII by Garcilaso de la Vega and Soneto CLXVI by Luis de Góngora and identify evidence of these types of elements.
4	1.A, 7.A, 7.C, 7.D, 7.F, 7.G	Role Play To demonstrate comprehension, have students break into groups and act out a scene from a text in front of the class (e.g., the scene in which Don Quijote attacks the windmills, or when Don Juan Tenorio meets Tisbea for the first time).

~9–10
CLASS PERIODS

Remember to go to AP Classroom to assign students the online Personal Progress Check for this unit.

Whether assigned as homework or completed in class, the Personal Progress Check provides each student with immediate feedback related to this unit's topics and skills.

Personal Progress Check 4

Multiple-choice: ~20 questions

Free-response: 2 questions

- Short-answer: Text Explanation
- Essay: Text Comparison

La literatura romántica, realista y naturalista

Developing Understanding

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS

- ¿De qué manera los autores utilizan el tiempo y el espacio para construir un estado de ánimo o un sentimiento?
- ¿Cómo se representan las características de un movimiento o período literario en la literatura?
- ¿De qué manera se transforma el/ la protagonista a consecuencia de su relación con otros personajes y/o con su ambiente?

In this unit, the first two works represent romanticism, which was a reaction to neoclassicism. Neoclassicism prioritized order, symmetry, and objectivity; unity was valued over creativity. Works reflecting romanticism value individual rights, creativity, the breaking away from norms, and idealism. The later two works in the unit reflect characteristics of the two concurrent Spanish literary movements that were reactions to romanticism during later part of the 19th century: realism and naturalism. These works provide acute descriptions of reality that employ regional references and dialects. They often portray characters from the lower and middle classes dealing with common social problems from the period. Naturalist works include a pessimistic tone, however, contrasting with romanticism's idealism.

Building Course Skills

The textual layers of the works in this unit continue to help create a distinction between a simple understanding of a text and analysis. As in previous units, students should initially approach the texts for comprehension. With careful attention to the literary features of each text, students should then interpret the author's implied message, also taking into account the text's cultural perspectives, products, and practices. Utilizing this skill, students should be able to interpret any ambiguities and nuances. As themes become evident, teachers can provide opportunities for explanation and comparison to other texts and the visual arts.

Students should be able to accurately employ a variety of basic and intermediate literary terms while providing textual examples in support of their arguments. They should clearly connect the texts to the corresponding period or movement and elaborate on how the contexts contributed to the creation of each text.

Preparing for the AP Exam

Teachers can continue to provide opportunities to practice for the interpretive listening section of the exam by listening to author interviews, poetry, and clips that accentuate the characteristics of the major literary movements of the 19th century: el Romanticismo and el Realismo y el Naturalismo. Students should practice identifying literary terms and determining how or why they are being used in the text. Students often struggle with identifying and comparing the use of structural, stylistic, or rhetorical devices. These skills are critical for success in the multiple-choice section as well as in free-response question 4, the text comparison essay. Additionally, students tend to write short-answers instead of essays in the text comparison essay. To combat this, teachers can provide models of essays that demonstrate a clear thesis statement, structured body paragraphs, and a defined conclusion.

CLASS PERIODS

Whether assigned as homework or completed in class, the Personal Progress Check provides each student with immediate feedback related to this unit's topics and skills.

Personal Progress Check 5

Multiple-choice: ~20 questions

Free-response: 2 questions

- Short-answer: Text and Art Comparison
- Essay: Analysis of a Single Text

La Generación del 98 y el Modernismo

Developing Understanding

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS

- ¿De qué manera los individuos contribuyen o perjudican al bienestar de la comunidad?
- ¿Cómo influye el contexto sociocultural o histórico en la expresión de la identidad?
- ¿Qué efecto tiene el uso de una mezcla de imágenes históricas y mitológicas en una obra literaria?

The Spanish-American War of 1898 is the historical event that forms the backbone of the works in this unit. The war marked the culmination of the period of decline for the Spanish empire, as the remaining Spanish colonies gained independence and Spain was left to search for a new identity. This is exemplified in the works of the Generation of 98, a group of authors writing around 1898 who philosophically explored social problems facing society at the time. El Modernismo, in contrast, marked the birth of a new American literary movement. The first stage of Modernismo embraced free verse poetry, creativity, beauty, elegance, and the abstract, while the second stage shifted to political commentary.

Building Course Skills

The texts in this unit are dynamic, profound, and abstract. This provides another opportunity for students to transition from comprehension and explanation to interpretation and literary analysis. Teachers can connect the texts with current events or to students' personal experiences to facilitate class discussions. Making these connections and observations can help spark student analysis. Teachers can also provide frequent opportunities to discuss how or why a text presents a key literary aspect (theme, literary term, genre, period/movement, or context). In the discussions, students should support their observations with relevant, well-chosen textual examples to illustrate their points. Students should listen to audio clips that discuss relevant aspects of the studied texts. Students should also compare common themes shared between studied texts and artwork in relation to period, movement, genre, and/or technique.

Preparing for the AP Exam

At this stage, students have read so many works that remembering each one will be challenging. Teachers can review and reuse previously studied works by comparing their key characteristics with the new works from this unit. For the AP Exam, students must recall characters, important events, characteristics of genres, key literary terms, themes, and contexts. Teachers may want to utilize a graphic organizer or template to fill out for each work so that students can jot down pertinent information. They can then use it to review for the exam.

Reviewing previous works will help prepare students for the two free-response questions they often struggle with: Text and Art Comparison and Single Text Analysis. For both, students need to identify and explain the characteristics of a literary period, movement, genre, or technique. Students score higher on the AP Exam when they are familiar with and able to define these important elements of literary texts.

Personal Progress Check 6

Multiple-choice: ~20 questions

Teatro y poesía del siglo XX

Developing Understanding

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS

- ¿Con qué intención presenta un autor o una autora problemas sociales en la literatura?
- ¿De qué manera la sociedad afecta la identidad personal de un individuo?
- ¿Cómo se presenta el nacionalismo (o la identidad nacional) en la literatura?

The first third of the 20th century was marked by World War I and the Spanish Civil War, forcing an artistic departure from el Modernismo. Works from this period are characterized by their questioning of daily life, their insistence upon defining identity, and experimentation with new literary forms and ideas. The period can be subdivided according to artistic production. Vanguard authors attempted to break with all previous movements, experimenting with creativity and ingenuity while establishing free verse poetry as a principal form of expression and renewing the uses of metaphors and imagery. Afro-Caribbean poetry from the period includes auditory elements and neologisms and explores mestizaje. Surrealist works from the period juxtapose the unconscious with the conscious, making everyday situations illogical and unexplainable. The Theater of the Absurd uses absurd, impossible, and hyperbolic representations to highlight society's problems.

Building Course Skills

For each text studied in this unit, students should be able to identify the themes and compare them to other works with ease. Students should now begin to use advanced literary terms in their discussions of literary texts and in defining characteristics of literary genres. Students should also analyze the cultural perspectives, products, and practices in each text.

To practice literary analysis, teachers can select different elements of texts for close reading. Students can discuss with partners or in small groups, as a class, or through writing. Frequent writing practice, peer editing, and teacher feedback can improve how students analyze a text and support their ideas with textual examples. Students should also listen to academic presentations of literary criticism as models of literary analysis.

Preparing for the AP Exam

This unit provides unique opportunities for listening to poems read by their authors. Listening to authors read their own poems helps facilitate nuanced understanding of the works. As in previous units, students should listen to presentations that detail important events from the period that contributed to the creation of the works. They can also listen to presentations about particular aspects of the works or clips that review information from previous units.

Students should also continue to listen to author interviews. Because students often summarize texts, they should practice utilizing textual examples in their writing. This is critical for success in all the free-response questions. Students should practice making a point or argument, supporting it with a brief and carefully selected textual example, then following it with a comment that connects the example to their point or argument. Doing so will help students develop literary analysis in their writing.

1	2.D, 2.E	Guided Reading Have students begin by skimming a fragment of text for the tone and theme as a pre-reading activity. Follow up by discussing reactions to the text. Then have students read the passage for comprehension, identifying the main ideas and supporting details. Ask students to predict what the rest of the text will be about. After students have read the remaining text, have them reflect on their predictions.
2	1.E, 1.G, 1.H, 2.D, 2.E, 6.C, 6.E	Double-Entry Journal Have students show their work as they read through a text for comprehension, similarly to how they would do a proof in a geometry class. In one column, students should include the text or fragment. In another column, students should write down their notes and questions, identify literary terms or themes, and make comments.
3	7.G	Self-Editing/Peer-Editing Project a sample essay in the classroom. Point out the essay’s strengths and where improvements are needed. Most importantly, indicate how it could be modified or changed to make improvements. Then have students exchange their own essays with a partner and ask them to give each other feedback similar to the feedback that was modeled for them.

CLASS PERIODS

Remember to go to AP Classroom to assign students the online Personal Progress Check for this unit.

Whether assigned as homework or completed in class, the Personal Progress Check provides each student with immediate feedback related to this unit's topics and skills.

Personal Progress Check 7

Multiple-choice: ~20 questions

Free-response: 2 questions

- Short-answer: Text Explanation
- Essay: Text Comparison

El Boom latinoamericano

Developing Understanding

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS

- ¿Qué efecto tiene la mezcla del realismo con lo fantástico en la literatura?
- ¿Cómo se presenta la crítica social en la literatura?
- ¿Cómo afecta el uso del tiempo lineal y/o el tiempo circular en una narración?

In the 1960s and 1970s, literature by Latin American authors became widely popular and read around the world. The works from this period are well-known for employing the literary technique of magic realism, where the fantastical coexists with everyday realities. Many of them also express social criticisms. One of the distinguishing characteristics of the works are their vivid depictions of settings that allow readers to experience the sights, sounds, customs, and traditions of Latin America.

Building Course Skills

Practicing literary analysis should continue to be a focus in this unit. Students should be able to clearly explain and compare themes in texts. Literary discussions, both written and oral, should employ a variety of literary terms to discuss stylistic, structural, and rhetorical features of the texts. Students should define and compare literary genres, periods, and movements. They should also elaborate on the roles that various contexts have in the creation and interpretation of the texts.

As with previous units, students should continue to analyze cultural perspectives, products, and practices and compare them to other studied texts. Students should listen to audio selections that present literary analysis, poetry, or contextual information that will assist in their study of each text. Students should then compare what they hear and read to what they have learned in other units. When writing or giving oral presentations, students should organize their thoughts so that their ideas are fully expressed, developed, and presented in a logical and clear order.

Preparing for the AP Exam

The authors studied in this unit gave numerous interviews during their careers. Many of the interviews included discussions of their work, their careers as writers, and other literary topics. Listening to fragments of these interviews can help students better understand the works that they study and prepare them for the AP Exam. Students should also listen to clips that emphasize the characteristics of the Boom latinoamericano.

Students should continue practicing free-response question 1, Text Explanation, where they provide examples to show how a theme is developed in one of the works. Students should also continue to practice writing essays, in particular, the text comparison essay in free-response question 4. Students can compare one of the works from this unit to a nonrequired text that shares a common theme and write an analysis of how literary devices are utilized in each text.

SAMPLE INSTRUCTIONAL ACTIVITIES

The sample activities on this page are optional and are offered to provide possible ways to incorporate various instructional approaches into the classroom. They were developed in partnership with teachers from the AP community to share ways that they approach teaching some of the topics in this unit. Please refer to the Instructional Approaches section beginning on p. 153 for more examples of activities and strategies.

Activity	Skills	Sample Activity
1	7.A	Skimming/Scanning Have students skim a text and quickly identify key words or phrases, identify the theme, and name the genre or time period to which the text belongs.
2	5.B, 5.C, 5.D, 5.E, 6.C, 6.E, 7.A, 7.G	Gradual Release Writing or Speaking Project an essay prompt. Then have students break into small groups to discuss possible responses, how to organize the essay, a possible thesis statement, and textual examples to support their arguments. Then have them prepare an outline and assign an essay paragraph to each member of the group. After writing, the group compiles all of the paragraphs into one complete essay.
3	1.E, 1.F, 2.B, 7.A	Fishbowl Split the class in half forming an inner and outer circle. Have the inner circle discuss and analyze one of the texts. Then have the outer circle summarize the discussion. The inner circle should comment on the themes, genre, use of literary figures and devices, and the relevant contexts found in the text. These same elements should be included in the outer circle’s summaries.

Personal Progress Check 8

Multiple-choice: ~20 questions

Free-response: 2 questions

- Short-answer: Text and Art Comparison
- Essay: Text Comparison

Escritores contemporáneos de Estados Unidos y España

Developing Understanding

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS

- ¿Cómo se representan la asimilación y la marginación en la literatura?
- ¿Cómo se relaciona el/ la protagonista con los espacios interiores y exteriores?
- ¿Cómo son diferentes el cuento corto y la viñeta?

Unit 8 focuses on recent works that present the realities of life in the 1970s and 1980s in the United States and Spain. Themes in these works may be familiar to today's students. The works from the United States represent two different perspectives of Spanish speakers: that of a native who has lived their whole life in the United States and that of a migrant who negotiates assimilation or marginalization. The work from Spain explores how an individual interacts with the community. All of the works in the unit provide unique opportunities to explore contemporary cultural perspectives, products, and practices.

Building Course Skills

In this final unit, all the skills of the course come together. Students should be able to explain and compare themes in the texts to other texts and artwork. They should be able to use a variety of vocabulary to discuss and analyze stylistic, structural, rhetorical and literary features of texts. They should be able to analyze, define, and compare aspects of literary genres, movements, and periods. Students should also be able to analyze the contexts that contributed to the creation of the texts and the texts' cultural perspectives, products, and practices. They should continue listening to interviews and presentations that discuss aspects of the texts in the unit, and they should write well-organized analytical essays and short responses.

Preparing for the AP Exam

In this final unit, teachers can prepare students for the AP Exam by familiarizing them with the exam's instructions and tasks.

For the multiple-choice section of the exam, the listening portion includes an author interview, a poem, and an academic presentation. Part B includes selections from the required reading list followed by nonrequired selections. For the text comparison portion, students must compare a required text to a nonrequired text. The final portion of Part B is a critical commentary that discusses a particular aspect of a required reading.

For the free-response section, students often struggle with including all of the requested tasks from the prompts. Using prompts from previous AP Exams as practice, students can underline and/or number each task requested in the prompts. This will help them remember what they must do as they formulate their written responses. Students should review the scoring guidelines as well. Teachers should highlight the criteria that demonstrate how omitting a task affects the evaluation.

SAMPLE INSTRUCTIONAL ACTIVITIES

The sample activities on this page are optional and are offered to provide possible ways to incorporate various instructional approaches into the classroom. They were developed in partnership with teachers from the AP community to share ways that they approach teaching some of the topics in this unit. Please refer to the Instructional Approaches section beginning on p. 153 for more examples of activities and strategies.

Activity	Skills	Sample Activity
1	7.A, 7.C	Think-Pair-Share Have students begin with an essential question that will focus them on a reading assignment as a pre-reading activity. As they read, have them consider the question and decide how to respond. In class, have them work with a partner and share their answers to the question. The pairs can then report their discussion to the class.
2	5.D, 6.C, 6.E, 7.B	Chalk Talk Before students arrive, write an open-ended, analytical question on the board. Have them respond to the question on a sticky note and affix it to the board. Using another sticky note, have them comment on another student's answer and affix it to the answer. Repeat until there are chains of sticky notes that form a written literary conversation.
3	5.A, 5.C, 5.D, 5.E, 6.A, 6.C, 6.D, 6.E, 7.B	Marking the Draft Provide each student with a copy of the same essay. Have them use different colors of highlighters to mark the thesis statement, topic sentences, examples, commentary, transitions, and conclusion. After highlighting, have students compare their essays.

Achievement Level Descriptions

Introduction

The skills and learning objectives inform teachers about what students are expected to do in the course and on the exam. The Achievement Level Descriptions (ALDs) present a continuum of expected student performance of the skills and learning objectives by levels 1–5. The ALDs work in concert with one another and should be considered holistically. While the ALDs give a picture of what student performance looks like at each level, they do not necessarily predict students’ exam scores. Teachers can use them to inform and make adjustments to their instruction and give feedback to students about how to push their performance to the next level.

Achievement Level Descriptions

Analysis 1

Analyze and/or interpret literary texts and audio sources in the target language.

SKILLS

- 1.A Read/listen to and comprehend literary texts.
- 1.B Identify the theme in a text.
- 1.C Identify or describe literary elements, voices, and stylistic features.
- 1.D Identify perspective, attitude, or tone.
- 1.E Explain the function and/or the significance of rhetorical, structural, and stylistic features.
- 1.F Explain implied meanings or inferences.
- 1.G Explain perspective, attitude, or tone.

Demonstrates an ability to compare texts and works of art that is not consistent with the criteria outlined for Level 2, or produces no measurable performance at all (i.e., off-task)

- Identifies themes and features of artistic representations, audiovisual materials, music, or films and spoken language sources related to literary texts. Although the identifications and connections are at times too superficial to support textual analysis, a student at this level can answer some interpretive questions where texts and art are compared
- Attempts to situate texts and artistic representations within the literary and artistic heritage of the Spanish-speaking world
- Attempts to explain how a theme is developed in a work of art with several inaccuracies
- Attempts to compare the development of a theme in a text to that of a work of art with inaccuracies

- Connects themes and features of artistic representations, audiovisual materials, music, or films, and spoken language sources to literary texts
- Is usually able to situate and identify texts and artistic representations within the literary and artistic heritage of the Spanish-speaking world
- Explains basic elements of how a theme is developed in a work of art
- Makes basic comparisons of how a theme is developed in a text and in a work of art

AP SPANISH LITERATURE AND CULTURE

Instructional Approaches

Selecting and Using Course Materials

Students must have access to the literary works from the required reading list. The older texts are public domain and are readily available online. The more modern texts are still under copyright and are available in numerous published anthologies. There are several textbooks designed for AP Spanish Literature and Culture. Each textbook presents a different method to organize the course as well as strategies for studying each of the texts. Textbooks should be considered as resources to guide and support instruction.

Authentic Materials

In addition to access to the required readings, it is critical to integrate a variety of other authentic materials into instruction and assessment. Authentic materials are texts or resources designed for native speakers and not created for the language classroom. Such authentic materials include, but are not limited to:

- websites
- literary reviews, magazines, and articles
- audio clips (interviews, poetry recitations, lectures, and presentations)
- podcasts
- music
- videos (films, documentaries, and TV interviews)
- radio broadcasts
- maps
- artwork (paintings, sculptures, architecture, and photographs)
- political cartoons

These materials help provide context for the required readings. These contexts include historical events, the author's biography, geopolitical circumstances, the literary period or movement, genre, and writing techniques. Students are better able to connect with the required readings when they understand what was happening when the work was written. Authentic materials also emphasize the cultural products, practices, and perspectives in each literary work.

Online Tools and Resources

Real Academia Española (RAE)

rae.es

The RAE offers online resources, including an online dictionary and grammar resources.

Arte Historia

artehistoria.com

Teachers can easily search and find a plethora of images, videos, articles, and presentations at Arte Historia. Biographies, narrations of historical events, and descriptions of literary periods and movements are easily accessible on this site.

Biblioteca Virtual Miguel de Cervantes

cervantesvirtual.com

The Biblioteca Virtual Miguel de Cervantes contains facsimiles of original texts, electronic editions of texts, scholarly publications, literary criticism, and author information. While its focus is on literature from Peninsular Spain, there are numerous texts from Latin America as well.

Professional Organizations

American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese (AATSP)

aatsp.org

Teachers can gain insights on teaching Spanish literature and network with other Spanish educators by joining the AATSP. There are state chapters of this organization and a peer-reviewed journal, Hispania, that publishes literary criticism.

American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL)

actfl.org

ACTFL is the largest organization of world language educators in the United States. ACTFL's standards and approach for instruction, performance, and assessment are foundational to AP world language and culture courses and exams. ACTFL offers many documents that inform instruction and assessment:

- World-Readiness Standards for Learning Languages "creates a roadmap to guide learners to develop competence to communicate effectively and interact with cultural competence to participate in multilingual communities at home and around the world." The five goal areas (Communication, Culture, Connections, Comparisons, and Communities) of language constitute the standards for language acquisition. This document is foundational for AP world language and culture courses.

- Performance Descriptors for Language Learners defines and describes the levels of language performance (novice, intermediate, advanced) in each of the modes of communication that result from explicit instruction in a classroom setting. It explains the difference between proficiency and performance. AP world language courses base expectations for performance on this document.

- ACTFL Proficiency Guidelines 2012 defines and describes the levels of proficiency in speaking, writing, listening, and reading that result from language learned within and beyond the classroom.

- Foreign Language Annals is the official refereed journal of current scholarly research in languages published by ACTFL and available to ACTFL members.

Modern Language Association (MLA)

mla.org

The MLA is a large professional organization that advocates for the study of languages and literature and specializes in peer-reviewed publications for the study and teaching of literature. The MLA manages a searchable database, the MLA International Bibliography, where literary articles, books, and scholarly publications are indexed and made available.

Instructional Strategies

The AP Spanish Literature and Culture course framework outlines the concepts and skills students need to master to be successful on the AP Exam. In order to address those concepts and skills effectively, it helps to incorporate a variety of instructional approaches into daily lessons and activities. The following table presents strategies that can help students apply their understanding of course concepts.

Receptive Skills: Interpretative Mode (making meaning of written, print, visual, audiovisual, and audio texts)

Strategy	Definition	Purpose	Example
Activating Prior Knowledge	Providing an opportunity for students to think about what they already know about a concept, place, person, culture, etc., and share their knowledge with a wider audience.	Helps prepare students to encounter new concepts, places, persons, cultures etc., prior to reading a text.	Prepare students with a pre-reading activity. Show students a painting that represents the historical period, a theme, or a technique that is represented in a work from the required reading list.
Categorizing	Matching the structure and style of a text to the definitions of a genre, period, movement, or technique.	Helps students identify and explain the artistic patterns and to compare texts written in similar fashions.	Have students read an essay that details the features of a particular genre (e.g., Comedia del Siglo de Oro) then ask them to identify those features in a text from the required reading list.
Chalk Talk	Providing an opportunity for students to respond to a question about a text or an excerpt of a text in writing on the board.	Helps students build skills in responding spontaneously and to provide an opportunity for all students to participate in the written discussion.	Post a question related to a text and have students write their reactions on the board. Students can respond to the question and to one another.
Change of Perspective	Providing an opportunity for students to retell a story from the perspective of a different character.	Provides students with an opportunity to retell/paraphrase a story and use its structures and vocabulary in a creative way.	Retell the beginning of the story of "La noche buena" from the perspective of one of the protagonist's children. Or, retell the story of "Mi caballo mágico" from the horse's perspective.

Chunking the Text	Breaking the text into smaller, manageable units of sense (e.g., words, sentences, paragraphs, whole text) by numbering, separating phrases, drawing boxes, etc.	Helps to reduce the intimidation factor when encountering long words, sentences, or whole texts; helps to increase comprehension of difficult or challenging text.	Break apart a story or poem into several sections for students to examine section by section.
Close Reading	Accessing small chunks of text to read, reread, mark, and annotate key passages—word for word, sentence by sentence, and line by line.	Develops comprehensive understanding by engaging in one or more focused readings of a text.	Model how to analyze a text or how to ask questions when engaging with a text and annotate it.
Descriptive Outlining	Analyzing the content, development, organization, and impact of a text or audio source by dividing it into functional chunks and describing what each chunk is saying and doing.	Help students to better understand how a text is put together and how it conveys its message.	Have students create an outline of a text or audio source by dividing it into chunks and describing the function or purpose of each chunk in conveying the message.
Discovering Vocabulary in Context	Reading a passage, noting unfamiliar words, discovering meaning of unfamiliar words using context clues, dictionaries and/or thesauruses, and replacing unfamiliar words with familiar ones.	Facilitate a close reading of text, the use of resources, an understanding of synonyms, and increased comprehension of text.	Ask students to use contextual clues and language resources to understand words and idiomatic expressions.
Double-Entry Journal	Creating a two-column journal (also called Dialectical Journal) with a student-selected passage in one column and the student's response in the second column (e.g., asking questions of the text, forming personal responses, interpreting the text, and reflecting on the process of making meaning of the text).	Helps students respond to a specific passage with comments, questions, or insights to foster active involvement with a text and to facilitate increased comprehension.	Have students create a double-entry journal using fragments of longer or shorter works.
Graphic Organizers	Using a visual representation for the organization of information.	Facilitates increased comprehension and discussion.	Have students create a Venn diagram comparing two different works that share the same genre.
Guided Reading	Identifying a series of strategies to guide students through challenging text (e.g., make predictions, mark the text, and skim the text).	Help students learn to use a multiplicity of strategies to make meaning from a challenging text.	Provide a short passage of a longer text, like Don Quixote , for students to read. Ask them to skim first and state their immediate impressions of the main idea. Have them reread and mark evidence of the main idea and supporting details in the text. Finally, have them predict what will happen next.

Strategy	Definition	Purpose	Example
Hashtag Summary	Chunking a text into sections, and then after reading each section, providing a # followed by a key word(s) or phrase that summarizes that section of text; then, the hashtag summaries are reviewed to determine relationships among the sections.	Facilitates increased comprehension of texts through carefully chosen, concise language; helps students begin recognizing relationships among sections of text; encourages students to use their own modes of language to comprehend texts.	Provide a text that has been chunked into sections and have students read in pairs and identify the hashtag for each chunk. Then have them discuss the relationships among the sections based on their hashtags.
How Reliable is This Source	Evaluating the bias, credibility, and reliability of a source.	Helps students select reliable and credible sources for evidence to support their arguments.	Have students define the terms bias, credible, and reliable and ask them to provide examples of sources that are considered reliable and others that are not.
Interactive Word Wall	Creating an interactive visual display of vocabulary words or literary terms that serves as a constant reminder as they are introduced, used, and mastered over the course of a year.	Provides a print-rich environment, reinforcement of learned words, a reference for reading and writing, and an ever-present tool for building word knowledge and awareness.	Dedicate a section of the classroom to posting useful words and/or phrases such as literary terms, transitional expressions, etc.
Intertextualizing	A feature from a literary text is modified and reused in another literary text or in another form of media.	Helps students identify how authors and artists influence one another.	Have students find movie clips, images, TV shows, or other literary texts where a character has been reimagined (e.g., Don Quijote).
Jigsaw	Reading different texts or passages from a single text, students take on the role of "experts"; sharing information from that reading, students share with a specific group and then return to their initial group to share their new knowledge.	Provides opportunities for students to summarize and present information to others in a way that facilitates an understanding of a text (or multiple texts) without having each student read the text in its entirety.	Divide students into groups and assign each group a section of Lazarillo de Tormes . Have them become the "expert" on that section of the text and then teach their text to others.
Marking the Text	Selecting text by highlighting, underlining, and/or annotating for specific components, such as characters, setting, main idea, literary terms, and themes.	Helps students focus reading for specific purposes, such as author's purpose, and to organize information from selections; to facilitate reexamination of a text.	Have students use different highlighter colors to emphasize different aspects of a text (e.g., characters, setting, main idea, literary terms, themes, key vocabulary, etc.).

Notetaking	Creating a record of information while listening to a speaker or while reading a text.	Facilitates active listening and/or reading; helps students record and organize ideas that assist in processing information.	Have students make annotations while they read a text (e.g., Cornell notes, T-notes, key words, and key ideas).
Predicting	Making guesses about the content of a text by examining titles, visuals, captions, headings/ sub-headings, and/or thinking ahead about ideas that may be presented based on evidence in the text.	Helps students become actively involved, interested, and mentally prepared to understand ideas.	Have students predict what a text will be about by looking at the title and visuals.
Previewing	Examining a text's structure, features, layout, visuals, etc., prior to reading.	Helps students gain familiarity with the text, make connections to the text, and extend prior knowledge to set a purpose for reading.	Ask students to explain and provide examples to illustrate how various genres are commonly structured, such as sonnets, silvas, short stories, vignettes, etc.
Questioning the Text	Developing literal and inferential questions about a text.	Helps students engage more actively with texts, read with greater purpose and focus, and ultimately answer questions to gain greater insight into the text.	Have students write two literal questions and one inferential question to ask about a text.
Read Aloud	Practicing oral reading of a selected text and providing students with an opportunity to choose their favorite sentences and/or chunks of text to read to others.	Inspires critical thinking and promotes fluent and purposeful reading.	Have students read a text aloud to the class and pause occasionally to check for understanding.
Sentence Unpacking	Analyzing how the language of a sentence works by chunking the sentence into functional sections and describing what those sections do.	Helps students understand the functions and effects of different language choices, syntax, and semantics.	Have students break down the first stanza of Rima LIII into component parts, or reorganize the parts of the sentence to a structure that is easier to understand.
Sequencing a Text	Dividing a text into sections and having students reassemble the text in order.	Gives students an opportunity to demonstrate understanding of a text; encourages logical thinking; and helps students demonstrate sequencing.	Provide students with a text divided into sections and have them place the sections in the most logical order.

Skimming/ Scanning	Skimming by rapid or superficial reading of a text to form an overall impression or to obtain a general understanding of the material; scanning focuses on key words, phrases, or specific details and provides speedy recognition of information.	Helps students quickly form an overall impression prior to an in-depth study of a text; gives students an opportunity to answer specific questions or quickly locate targeted information or detail in a text.	Provide students with a limited amount of time to skim or scan a text and have them identify the genre, purpose, and/or theme of the text, as appropriate.
SOAPSTone	Analyzing text by discussing and identifying Speaker, Occasion, Audience, Purpose, Subject, and Tone.	Gives students an opportunity to use a process to identify and understand rhetorical or stylistic aspects of a text.	Provide students with an organizer listing speaker, occasion, audience, purpose, subject, and tone and have them complete it as they read. Have them use the completed organizer to discuss the text in class.
Summarizing/ Paraphrasing	Restating in one's own words the main idea or essential information expressed in a text, whether it be narration, dialogue, or informational text.	Facilitates comprehension and recall of a text.	Provide students with a print or audio text and have them summarize the content.
Think Aloud	Talking through a difficult passage or task by using a form of metacognition whereby the reader expresses how he/she has made sense of the text.	Helps students reflect on how readers make meaning of challenging texts.	Model aloud how you determine the meaning of a text as you read. Share the questions you ask yourself when you engage with a difficult text.
Vocabulary Notebook	Using a designated format such as a notebook, journal, or personal list to maintain an ongoing list of vocabulary words, definitions, and connection to academic study.	Facilitates and sustains a systematic process of vocabulary development.	Have students maintain a notebook of vocabulary items encountered over the course of the academic year.
What's Next?	Predicting what happens at the end of a story.	Provides a continuation or alternate ending to a story.	After reading a short story, ask students to continue the story or provide a different ending written in the style of the author.
Window Panes	Drawing a series of six pictures that illustrate the main points in a text.	Helps to determine whether students have comprehended the text.	After reading a story, have students pretend that they have been contracted by a publishing company to illustrate the most important moments in the text.

Productive Skills: Writing and Speaking Strategies

Strategy	Definition	Purpose	Example
Adding (Revision)	Making conscious choices to enhance or elaborate a text by adding additional words, phrases, sentences, or ideas.	Helps students refine and clarify their thoughts during revision and/or drafting.	Have students edit a writing or speaking sample (e.g., essay or oral presentation script) and suggest ways to provide additional elaboration.
Deleting (Revision)	Providing clarity and cohesiveness for a text by eliminating words, phrases, sentences, or ideas.	Helps students refine and clarify their thoughts during revision and/or drafting.	Have students edit a writing or speaking sample (e.g., essay or oral presentation script) and suggest ways to be more succinct.
Ask the Expert (or Students as Experts)	Students are assigned as “experts” on concepts or skills they have mastered; groups rotate through the expert stations to learn about concepts or skills they have not yet mastered.	Provides opportunities for students to share their knowledge and learn from one another.	Have students present on a topic related to a literary work, author, genre, literary period or movement, or technique. After each student presents, allow time for a Q&A session where the class can ask the presenter questions to clarify or to get the presenter to elaborate on presented ideas.
Checklists	Using a checklist of things to consider or remember to do while they write.	Provides opportunities for focused self- or peer-evaluation.	Have students evaluate a sample essay from AP Central using a checklist, including: thesis statement, development of topic, conclusion, organization/ flow of ideas, proofread to correct for conventions of written language, etc. Or, provide a checklist of all the elements of each exam task model when students practice.
Debate	Engaging in an informal or formal argumentation of an issue.	Provides students with an opportunity to collect and orally present evidence supporting the affirmative and negative arguments of a proposition or issue.	Have students read a selected text on a particular topic. Assign a position for each student to defend. Have students debate from their assigned perspective then switch sides and debate from the opposite viewpoint.
Discussion Boards	Responding to questions or comments with respect to analyzing and interpreting literary texts.	Provides students with an opportunity to propose a question or thought and comment on what other students have stated.	Use an online discussion board to pose a question. Ask students to respond to the question and to their classmates’ responses.
Drafting	Composing a text in its initial form.	Helps students incorporate brainstormed or initial ideas into a written format.	Ask students to write a rough draft of short-answers, essays, original stories, etc., to gather and organize initial ideas and seek feedback for revision.

Strategy	Definition	Purpose	Example
Fishbowl	A text-based discussion on specific topics; some students will form the inner circle and model appropriate discussion techniques, while an outer circle of students will listen, respond, and evaluate.	Provides students with an opportunity to engage in a formal discussion and to experience roles both as participant and active listener; also gives students the opportunity to have the responsibility of supporting their opinions and responses.	Provide students with a text and questions for discussion. Group students into an inner and outer circle. The inner circle actively discusses the issue using the questions, while the outer circle listens and later summarizes the discussion.
Five Square	Dividing the room into answer options and allowing students to stand in the area representing their answer. The fifth area is the center of the room.	Helps students practice answering multiple-choice questions and providing rationales, including textual evidence for answers.	Give students a passage of a multiple-choice test. Have them work in groups to answer the questions and then go to their answer "corners." Each answer group provides a rationale for its answer. If someone from the group goes to a different section, they defend their choice to deviate from the group.
Generating Questions	Clarifying and developing ideas by asking questions of the draft; may be part of self-editing or peer editing.	Helps students clarify and develop ideas in a draft; used during drafting and as part of writer response.	Pose the following questions for students to ask while reviewing a draft: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Did I respond appropriately to the prompt? ▪ Did I provide all the required information? ▪ How well have I controlled grammar and verb tenses? ▪ Is my work well-organized? ▪ What other details could I add?
Gradual Release Writing or Speaking	Projecting an essay prompt, the whole class brainstorms on what the prompt is asking and initial ways to respond to the prompt. This encourages students to assume more responsibility and engagement in their learning.	Helps teach students how to deconstruct the prompt, find supporting evidence, and organize their essays.	Project an AP Exam essay prompt and go through the process with students. Divide them into small groups or pairs to outline the essay. Then have them prepare one body paragraph individually. Students regroup to discuss and assess their paragraphs. Finally, students write the entire essay on their own.
Graphic Organizers	Representing ideas and information visually (e.g., Venn diagrams, flowcharts, and cluster maps).	Provides a visual system for organizing multiple ideas, details, and/or textual support to be included in a piece of writing.	Have students create a Venn diagram comparing two different works that share the same genre.
Marking the Draft	Interacting with the draft version of a piece of writing by highlighting, underlining, color coding, and annotating to indicate revision ideas.	Encourages focused, reflective thinking about revising drafts and organization.	Using different colors, have students highlight the different parts of an essay: introduction, thesis statement, topic sentences, textual evidence, commentary, transitions, and conclusion.

Strategy	Definition	Purpose	Example
Outlining a Presentation	Using a system of numerals and letters to identify topics and supporting details, and ensure an appropriate balance of ideas.	Helps students organize ideas and present them as they would in an essay without writing the entire essay.	Give students a prompt from an AP Exam. After they decide how to respond to the prompt, have them map or outline their proposed essay (as a follow up, students can use their outlines to write the essay).
Presentation Strategies	Using verbal and nonverbal strategies to communicate information to an audience.	Helps students organize and clearly present information with examples similar to a written presentation.	Encourage students to treat the oral presentation like an essay, providing an introduction, body, and conclusion. Have them prepare an outline on a notecard and then elaborate on each outlined point while presenting.
Revisiting Prior Work	Looking through a collection of previously completed work to identify successes and challenges that may have been encountered with particular formats, conventions, style, word choice, etc.	Helps students build on prior experience in preparation for a new piece of writing and/or to revise a previous piece of writing.	Have students review prior argumentative essays as they begin to draft a new one.
Role Play	Students assume a role and engage in a conversation with another person.	Gives students an opportunity to demonstrate comprehension and spark analysis of a text.	Have students role play to represent the conversation that two characters in a story have the next time they meet.
Scoring Guidelines Application	Examining student writing samples using AP assessment scoring guidelines.	Helps build student understanding of how they are assessed on the AP Exam.	Show students student samples and the scoring guidelines posted on AP Central.
Self-Editing/Peer-Editing	Students work with a partner to examine each other's work to identify content, organization, and mechanics that can be improved.	Provides a systematic process for revising and editing a written text.	Provide a checklist of targets that students should look for when reviewing a peer's work.
Sketching	Drawing or sketching ideas or ordering of ideas; includes storyboarding and visualizing.	Helps students generate and/or clarify ideas by visualizing them; may be part of prewriting.	Have students read a story and sketch the scenes. Then have them use their completed storyboards to spontaneously retell the story.
Small Group Scoring	Working in small groups, students use the scoring rubrics to score sample essays and provide a rationale/explanation for their score.	Helps students recognize the differences in high-scoring/low-scoring essays and to use the strengths in revising their own writing.	Give a group of students a released student sample essay and the accompanying scoring guidelines from AP Central. Have the group evaluate it, discussing the score that they think it deserves and why.

Socratic Seminar	Having a focused discussion to an essential question, topic, or selected text in which students ask questions of each other and support their answers by providing evidence taken from the text.	Provides the opportunity for students to engage deeply with a text and learn to take supporting evidence from it; to have students engage in interpersonal speaking.	Have students read a text and develop questions about it. In a circle, have them ask their questions while others respond, giving their opinions and supporting them through evidence from the text.
Think-Pair-Share	Considering and thinking about a topic or question and then writing what has been learned; pairing with a peer or a small group to share ideas; sharing ideas and discussion with a larger group.	Helps students construct meaning about a topic or question, test thinking in relation to the ideas of others, and prepare for a discussion with a larger group.	Provide students with a text and a question about the text. Have them read the text and answer the question and then share their responses with a partner or a small group. Then have them share their group's answers with the class.

Developing Course Skills

Throughout the course, students will develop skills that are fundamental to the discipline of Spanish Literature. The tables that follow provide sample activities and instructional strategies for incorporating the individual skills into the course.

Skill Category 1: Analyze and/or interpret literary texts and audio sources in the target language

Skill	Key Tasks	Sample Activity	Instructional Strategies
1.A Read/listen to and comprehend literary texts.	Understand a literary text by decoding the vocabulary, sentence structure, and the literal meaning versus the intended meaning.	Have students rewrite a literary text in a brief format that still includes the main ideas, some supporting details, and well-chosen examples from the text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Summarizing/ Paraphrasing Window Panes
1.B Identify the theme in a text.	Determine the central idea presented in a text.	Have students read a passage of text to decide what is the main message of the text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Skimming/ Scanning
1.C Identify or describe literary elements, voices, and stylistic features.	Locate text (i.e., key words, phrases, and sentences) that indicates rhetorical figures, points of view, or stylistic features in order to establish differences in meaning and/or ambiguity.	Provide a short list of literary terms with their definitions and have students work through a text to identify where they are used within the text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Marking the text
1.D Identify perspective, attitude, or tone.	Locate text (i.e., keywords, phrases, expressions, adjectives, adverbs, or other descriptions that indicate emotions, moods, internal dialogue, or monologues) that will help to identify the perspective, attitude, or tone of a text or fragment of a text.	Have students read a pre-selected short selection of a text and engage in a deep, careful reading. Have them engage in a "conversation with the text" (asking questions of the text, annotating observations, etc.) to identify the tone, perspective, or attitude.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Close Reading Socratic Seminar
1.E Explain the function and/or the significance of rhetorical, structural, and stylistic features.	Describe the purpose or reason that a literary element, particular narrative voice, or stylistic feature was chosen as a form of expression in a text.	Have students review a text where literary elements, narrative voice, and stylistic features have already been identified. Have students clarify why the author chose to employ that element in the text and how it communicates to the reader.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> SOAPSTone Socratic Seminar

1.F Explain implied meanings or inferences.	Elaborate on how or why an author has chosen a particular method of expression to communicate nuances to the reader.	Utilizing a fragment of text that could have multiple interpretations, demonstrate how the text can have different readings depending on the way the reader approaches the text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Close Reading Questioning the Text
1.G Explain perspective, attitude, or tone.	Take into account key vocabulary words, idiomatic expressions, and sentence structure to determine how an author conveys their intended message.	Ask students to highlight words and phrases that indicate the methods that the author is using to communicate to the reader.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Double-Entry Journal Vocabulary Notebook
1.H Explain the development of a theme in a text.	Using textual examples, give descriptions to demonstrate how a theme is introduced, established, and/or emphasized in a text.	Establish the structure of a literary work to deconstruct how the central theme is presented and developed.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Descriptive Outlining
1.I Connect themes or ideas to characters.	Identify the characteristics and/or actions of a character in a text that indicate the text's main ideas.	Have students analyze a character's actions, motives, and/or the way the text describes them. Then have students create connections with what the text is communicating to the reader.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Think-Pair-Share

Skill Category 2: Make connections between a literary text and a non-literary text or an aspect of culture

Skill	Key Tasks	Sample Activity	Instructional Strategies
2.A Identify cultural products, practices, or perspectives.	Recognize the aspects of a text that are representative of a target language culture.	Provide a video or audio clip that highlights a particular cultural aspect then ask students to find that cultural aspect in a literary text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Graphic Organizers
2.B Explain the relationship between cultural products, practices, and perspectives of target cultures.	Connect the overlapping characteristics of cultural products, practices, and perspectives.	Show a work of art that depicts a cultural phenomenon and have students describe the cultural products, practices, and perspectives and the aspects of the work that overlap those three categories.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Graphic Organizers (Venn Diagram with three overlapping circles for Products, Practices, and Perspectives)
2.C Relate target language texts to genres, periods, movements, and techniques.	Examine a text carefully to match its content and structure to the characteristics of a particular genre, period, movement, or technique.	Provide students with an unknown text (it does not have to be from the required reading list) and have them match it to a genre, period, movement, and technique.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Categorizing
2.D Situate textual language and registers within historical, social, and geopolitical contexts.	Understand the circumstances under which a literary text was written and how those circumstances represent a wide variety of variables that, when analyzed, share aspects in common.	Have students watch videos or listen to audio clips of academics that explain how or why a text was created.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Activating Prior Knowledge
2.E Relate texts to their contexts (literary, historical, sociocultural, geopolitical).	Having defined the characteristics of the different contexts that affected the creation of a literary work, read a new text and match its features to the appropriate contexts.	Prepare a pre-reading activity to help students understand the contexts under which a text was created to facilitate comprehending a text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ask the Expert (or Students as Experts)
2.F Relate texts to contemporary global issues.	Connect information presented in literary texts written in the past to events currently happening around the world today.	Have students compare a text from medieval Spain to current events with respect to the relationships between men and women.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Think-Pair-Share
2.G Explain how a text reflects or challenges perceptions of a majority/minority culture.	Analyze literary texts to identify social critiques that formed catalysts for changes in customs and traditions.	Have students consider how a text presented information that would enlighten the readers to social injustices (e.g., Lazarillo de Tormes).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Read Alouds

Skill Category 3: Compare literary texts

Skills	Key Tasks	Sample Activity	Instructional Strategies
3.A Describe structural or stylistic similarities and differences in two texts.	Enumerate similarities and differences in the uses of literary terms, points of view, stylistic features in terms of period, movement, genre, theme, or technique.	Present students with a text that they are familiar with and a new text and have them find similarities and differences.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Graphic Organizers
3.B Compare cultural products, practices, or perspectives portrayed in two texts.	Develop how distinct points of view, traditions, customs, or other cultural phenomena are presented in different texts.	Have students evaluate how the cultural products, practices, or perspectives compare to points of view from the student's own culture using a Venn diagram.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Socratic Seminar
3.C Identify thematic connections between texts.	Point out where and how texts are connected by common themes by linking new texts to ones already studied.	After students have already read several texts in the course, give them a new text. As they read and analyze the new text, have them identify and provide examples of thematic connections with previously read works. This activity can be repeated with every new text so that students grow in their ability to link texts thematically.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Activating Prior Knowledge
3.D Compare the development of a theme in two texts.	Use textual examples to demonstrate that two texts share a common central idea.	Have students read through two different texts to identify a common main theme. Have them explain how the presentation of the theme is similar or not in each text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Think-Pair-Share
3.E Compare the representation of historical events in two texts.	Assess two texts that relate the same historical events (e.g., the Spanish American War) from varying points of view.	Have students watch a video or listen to an audio clip that details what happened and why during an important historical event. Then ask them to compare it to two different texts that present their versions of the same historical event.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Activating Prior Knowledge
3.F Compare points of view in two texts.	Elaborate on how two texts share or differ in the way that they communicate similar ideas to their readers.	Divide students into small groups that have each read different texts. Have each group discuss the point of view presented in their text and the similarities and differences.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Jigsaw

Skill Category 4: Compare a text to artistic representations

Skill	Key Tasks	Sample Activity	Instructional Strategies
4.A Relate texts to practices and perspectives found in a variety of media from the target cultures.	Compare the features of a literary text to representations of art, movies, music, cartoons, or other forms of media.	Ask students to pinpoint intertextual relationships across different forms of media (e.g., a character from literature, like Don Juan Tenorio that is found in other texts, movies, music, etc.).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Intertextualizing
4.B Situate texts within literary and artistic heritages of the target culture.	Explain the significance of similar themes and features found between an artistic representation and a literary text.	Have students identify the features that are representative of the characteristics for a period or movement.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ask the Expert (or Students as Experts)
4.C Describe how a theme is developed in a work of art.	Read a visual text as if it were a literary text to discover its central idea.	Have students practice reading a work of art by looking at images, describing how they are represented (color, placement, shading, etc.), and looking for emotion to determine its themes.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Think Aloud

Skill Category 5: Write a literary analysis

Skills	Key Tasks	Sample Activity	Instructional Strategies
5.A Present information in a descriptive form.	Summarize, paraphrase, and organize ideas to present information in a clear, more concise manner.	Show students effective writing samples so they can model them when practicing their writing.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Guided Writing
5.B Create a thesis that states the purpose.	Write a sentence that clearly establishes what the writer intends to argue throughout the essay to guide the reader.	Have students evaluate different thesis statements to determine the components of an effective thesis.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Revisiting Prior Work
5.C Organize information, concepts, and ideas in presentations with a logical and coherent progression of ideas.	Prepare a strategy so that written responses flow using a variety of transitional words and phrases to clearly express ideas to the reader.	Model effective essay structures that students can practice and modify in their responses to AP Exam prompts.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Marking the Draft ▪ Graphic Organizers
5.D Elaborate and support main points with textual evidence.	Present sufficient information and examples to convincingly argue points in a written composition.	Include commentary to connect a student's argument to their textual examples so that the reader can fully understand what is being stated in the written composition.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Adding (Revision)
5.E Use sources available in the target language to support the interpretation of texts and compare distinct viewpoints.	Demonstrate the ability to inference, predict, interpret, and analyze a text and to connect and compare it to another text.	Have students carefully select and share appropriate examples of the contextual influences on the creation of literary texts that support an analysis of the literary work.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Role Play
5.F Incorporate information from secondary sources related to texts in oral and written presentations.	Connect information from alternate interdisciplinary sources to support an oral or written presentation.	Have students integrate information from videos, audio clips, or literary articles/criticism to illustrate the contexts that influenced the literary work.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ How Reliable is this Source
5.G Use authorized reference materials in oral and written presentations.	Utilize support materials for research to amplify understanding and enrich analysis of a literary work.	Ask students to look up information, vocabulary, and scholarly articles to scaffold expertise on a particular subject.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Presentation Strategies
5.H Acknowledge sources and cite them appropriately.	Effectively attribute credit to intellectual property to its owner in an oral or written composition.	Ensure that students mention the name of the author, work, or source when introducing a paraphrased information or quote.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Checklists

Skill Category 6: Use accurate language and apply appropriate conventions of written language

Skill	Key Tasks	Sample Activity	Instructional Strategies
6.A Use a variety of vocabulary appropriate to literary analysis.	Effectively use a variety of literary terms, especially the intermediate and advanced terms, in oral and written presentations to present literary analysis.	Have students use literary terms to discuss a text's genre, structure, and style.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Debate ▪ Fishbowl
6.B Use a variety of grammatical and syntactic structures.	Employ successful rhetorical strategies to communicate literary analysis to the reader. Success in AP Spanish Literature and Culture

There are five key elements that students must be able to manage for each of the 38 required works to be successful on the AP Exam:

1. Themes

Students must be able to identify a theme in a literary text. The six required course themes should be a focus of the course; however, any theme is worth exploring even if it is not one of the required themes. Students must be able to explain how the theme is developed and provide well-chosen examples from the text to demonstrate that development.

2. Literary terms

There are many literary terms, some of which are listed in the course framework. While this is not an exhaustive list, it is a good place to begin. Students must learn how to identify structural, rhetorical, and stylistic literary devices in a text. They must also know how to define their functions, explain their uses, and analyze their effects. Many students simply identify literary terms by pointing them out in a text, which is only the first step. Teachers can help make it a habit to move toward analysis by discussing the function or effect of the literary device in the text.

3. Genres and subgenres

Each literary genre and subgenre has its own set of characteristics that make it unique, which students must be able to identify. They must also be able to recognize the genre or subgenre of a literary work. It is imperative that students learn to discriminate the characteristics of each genre and analyze how or why the author has chosen the particular genre or subgenre to express their message. It is worth pointing out that not all literary or artistic works fit into the defined categories. There are authors that have created hybrid genres that mix elements of different genres and subgenres. These works are excellent for students to practice pointing out the characteristics of the different genres and subgenres in the work.

4. Literary periods and movements

As time passes, it becomes easier to see patterns amongst literary works that share common themes, genres or subgenres, or aesthetic qualities. Works that are written around the same time and share some of these characteristics are said to belong to a literary period or movement (that may or may not correspond to the artistic period or movement). As with genre, students should be able to identify how literary periods or movements are different from each other and how they are born as reactions to their predecessors. Because literary periods and movements are artistic tendencies, they rarely have defined dates as to when they start or finish. Textual examples help determine whether or not a text belongs to or is affected by a literary period or movement. There are several texts in the course that could belong to several literary periods or movements because they demonstrate several different artistic influences that existed during the time that the work was written. Students should have the opportunity to debate and decide for themselves how to categorize works like these.

5. Contexts

To connect with a literary text, students need to know what influenced the creation of the literary work. Knowing these influences will highlight the cultural elements of the text and spark analysis. Students should have the opportunity to become familiar with the historical events occurring at the time the text was written. Knowing biographical facts about the author can also explain characters or events in the texts. Students should also become familiar with the sociocultural and geopolitical elements of the texts.

How Student Learning is Assessed on the AP Exam

The six AP Spanish Literature and Culture skill categories are assessed on the AP Exam as detailed below.

Skill Categories	Multiple-Choice Section	Free-Response Section
Skill Category 1: Analysis	At least 75% of the multiple-choice questions assess students' ability to analyze and interpret literary and audio sources in Spanish. Students need to read or listen to and comprehend literary texts. Students must also identify themes in texts, explain their development within a text, and connect them to character. Additionally, students must describe and explain the function of literary elements, narrative voices, and stylistic features. Finally, students need to explain implied meanings or inferences, as well as perspective, attitude, or tone.	All of the free-response questions assess the skill of literary analysis.
Skill Category 2: Cultural Context and Connections	Around 10% of the multiple-choice questions assess students' ability to make connections between a literary text and a non-literary text or an aspect of culture. Students must identify and explain the relationships between cultural products, practices, and perspectives of Spanish-speaking cultures. Students must also relate texts to different genres, periods, movements, and techniques as well as situate textual language and registers within historical, social, and geopolitical contexts. Additionally, students must relate texts to their literary, historical, sociocultural, or geopolitical contexts; to contemporary global issues; and explain how texts reflect or challenge a majority/minority culture.	Free-response questions 1, 2, and 3 assess cultural context and connections.
Skill Category 3: Comparing Literary Texts	Around 10% of the multiple-choice questions assess students' ability to compare literary texts. Students need to describe or explain similarities and differences in two texts related to structure; style; cultural products, practices, or perspectives; theme; representation of historical events; and points of view.	Free-response question 4 focuses on the skill of comparing literary texts.

Skill Category 4: Comparing Texts and Art	This skill is not assessed in the multiple-choice section.	Free-response question 2 assesses students' ability to compare a literary text to an artistic representation. Students will need to situate texts within their literary and artistic heritages and describe how a theme is developed in a work of art.
Skill Category 5: Argumentation	This skill is not assessed in the multiple-choice section.	All four free-response questions assess student's ability to write a literary analysis. Students need to create a thesis; organize information, concepts, and ideas in a logical and coherent progression; elaborate and support main points with textual evidence; and use cultural information to support the interpretation of texts and compare distinctive viewpoints.
Skill Category 6: Language and Conventions	This skill is not assessed in the multiple-choice section.	All four free-response questions assess students' ability to use accurate language and apply appropriate conventions of written language. Students must use a variety of vocabulary and terminology appropriate to literary analysis, use a variety of grammatical and syntactic structures, present and organize information logically, and observe writing conventions.

Section I: Multiple-Choice

Part A of the AP Spanish Literature and Culture Exam includes 15 multiple-choice questions in sets of 4 or 7 questions each. Each set includes authentic stimulus materials presented in audio format.

Part B includes 50 multiple-choice questions in sets of 7 to 10 questions each. Each set includes authentic stimulus materials presented in written format.

The following table presents the different types of stimulus materials, the number of questions per set, and the skills assessed in each set. The order below represents the order on the exam.

Part	Number of Questions	Stimulus Type	Skill Categories Assessed
Part A	4	Interview	1: Analysis
	4	Poem	1: Analysis
	7	Discussion or lecture on literary topics	1: Analysis 2: Cultural Context and Connections
Part B	2 sets of 7–10 questions	Single text (required text from the course)	1: Analysis 2: Cultural Context and Connections 3: Comparing Literary Texts
	2 sets of 7–10 questions	Single text (nonrequired text)	1: Analysis 2: Cultural Context and Connections 3: Comparing Literary Texts
	7–10	Text comparison (two texts: one from the required reading list, the other, a nonrequired text)	1: Analysis 2: Cultural Context and Connections 3: Comparing Literary Texts
	7–10	Critical commentary	1: Analysis 2: Cultural Context and Connections 3: Comparing Literary Texts

Section II: Free-Response

The second section of the AP Spanish Literature and Culture Exam includes two short-answer questions and two essays. Each question is scored based on content and language usage. The free-response section as a whole represents or references prose and poetry; pre-19th-century, 19th-century, and 20th-century texts; and Spanish and Latin American literature. The following table presents the criteria, the score ranges, and the skills assessed for each question.

Question Number	Question Type	Students are Assessed on Their Ability to:	Scoring Criteria	Skill Categories Assessed
1	Short-answer: Text Explanation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identify the author and period of the text. Explain how a theme is developed within a text while providing textual examples to support their response. 	Content	1: Analysis 2: Cultural Context and Connections 5: Argumentation
			Language usage	6: Language and Conventions
2	Short-answer: Text and Art Comparison	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Compare how a theme is presented both in a literary text and in a work from the visual arts in relation to a literary period, movement, genre, or technique. 	Content score	1: Analysis 2: Cultural Context and Connections 4: Comparing Texts and Art 5: Argumentation
			Language usage	6: Language and Conventions
3	Essay: Single Text	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Using a selection or a fragment of a required reading text, analyze how the text represents a literary period, movement, genre, or technique and they analyze how the text represents a cultural context. Discuss the use of literary figures and rhetorical devices and provide textual examples to support their analysis. 	Content	1: Analysis 2: Cultural Context and Connections 5: Argumentation
			Language usage	6: Language and Conventions
4	Essay: Text Comparison	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Analyze the effect of literary figures and rhetorical devices that authors use to present a theme in a selection or fragment of text from the required reading list and a selection or fragment of a nonrequired text. PART A

Scripts for audio are presented in this publication for reference. They are not provided to students during the exam. Listen to the audio by clicking the audio icon below, or by going to https://secure-media.collegeboard.org/ap/video_audio/ap-spanish-literature-selection-1-effective-2019.mp3.

Directions: You are going to listen to a selection in Spanish twice. After hearing the selection for the first time, you will have 1 minute to read the questions. You will hear the selection again. While listening to the selection, you may take notes. Your notes will not be scored.

After listening to the selection the second time, you will respond to 4 questions. Based on the information provided in the selection, select the BEST answer to each question from among the four choices printed in your test book. You will have 1 minute to answer the questions.

Instrucciones: Vas a escuchar una selección en español dos veces. Después de escuchar la selección por primera vez, vas a tener 1 minuto para leer las preguntas. Luego vas a escuchar la selección de nuevo. Mientras escuchas la selección, puedes tomar apuntes. Tus apuntes no serán evaluados.

Después de escuchar la selección por segunda vez, tienes que responder a 4 preguntas. Basándote en la información que se da en la selección, para cada pregunta elige la MEJOR respuesta de las cuatro opciones escritas en tu libreta de examen. Tienes 1 minuto para responder a las preguntas.

(NARR) Ahora escucha el poema titulado “La guitarra” de Federico García Lorca.

La guitarra
Empieza el llanto
de la guitarra.
Se rompen las copas
de la madrugada.
Empieza el llanto
de la guitarra.
Es inútil
callarla.
Es imposible
callarla.

Llora monótona
 como llora el agua,
 como llora el viento
 sobre la nevada.
 Es imposible
 callarla.
 Lloro por cosas
 lejanas.
 Arena del Sur caliente que pide camelias blancas.
 Lloro flecha sin blanco,
 la tarde sin mañana,
 y el primer pájaro muerto
 sobre la rama.
 ¡Oh guitarra!
 Corazón malherido
 por cinco espadas.

(NARR) Ahora tienes 1 minuto para leer las preguntas en tu libreta.

[1 minute pause]

(Vase FABIO y sale TISBEA.)

TISBEA

Robusto mar de España,
Verso ondas de fuego, fugitivas ondas,
5 Troya de mi cabaña,
que ya el fuego, por mares y por ondas,
en sus abismos fragua,
y el mar forma, por las llamas, agua.
¡Maldito el leño sea
10 que a tu amargo cristal halló [camino], antojo de Medea,
tu cáñamo primero o primer lino,
aspado de los vientos,
para telas de engaños e instrumentos!

15 ISABELA

¿Por qué del mar te quejas tan tiernamente, hermosa pescadora?

TISBEA

Al mar formo mil quejas.
20 ¡Dichosa vos, que en su tormento, agora dél os estáis riendo!

ISABELA

También quejas del mar estoy haciendo.
¿De dónde sois?

25 TISBEA

De aquellas
cabañas que miráis del viento heridas tan vitorios[o] entre ellas, cuyas pobres paredes desparcidas 30 van en pedazos graves, dando [en] mil [grietas nidos] a las aves.
En sus pajas me dieron
corazón de fortísimo diamante;
mas las obras me hicieron,

- 35 deste monstruo que ves tan arrogante,
 ablandarme de suerte
 que al sol la cera es más robusta y fuerte.
 ¿Sois vos la Europa hermosa que esos toros os llevan?
- 40 ISABELA
 [A Sevilla]
 llévanme a ser esposa
 contra mi voluntad.
- TISBEA
- 45 Si mi mancilla
 a lástima os provoca,
 y si injurias del mar os tienen loca, en vuestra compañía
 para servirlos como humilde esclava
- 50 me llevad; que querría, si el dolor o la afrenta no me acaba, pedir al rey justicia
 de un engaño cruel, de una malicia.
 Del agua derrotado
- 55 a esta tierra llegó don Juan Tenorio, difunto y anegado;
 amparéle, hospedéle en tan notorio
 peligro, y el vil güésped víbora fue a mi planta e[n] tierno césped.
- 60 Con palabra de esposo,
 la que de esta costa burla hacía
 se rindió al engañoso;
 ¡mal haya la mujer que en hombres fía!
 Fuése al fin, y dejóme:
- 65 mira si es justo que venganza tome.
- ISABELA
 ¡Calla, mujer maldita!
 ¡Vete de mi presencia, que me has muerto!
 Mas, si el dolor te incita
- 70 no tienes culpa tú. Prosigue el cuento.
- TISBEA
 ¡La dicha fu[e]ra mía...!
- ISABELA
 ¡Mal haya la mujer que en hombres fía!
- 75 ¿Quién tiene de ir contigo?
- TISBEA
 Un pescador, Anfriso, un pobre padre de mis males testigo.
- ISABELA [Aparte.]

80 (No hay venganza a mi mal que tanto cuadre.)
Ven en mi compañía.

TISBEA

¡Mal haya la mujer que en hombres fía! (Vanse.)

Questions 10–15 refer to the passage below.

Pues cuando hubieron llegado al borde del mar, los transportaron, en barcas los llevaron a Xicalanco.

Otra vez allí los tomaron en barcas, los llevaron los Línea marineros: todos los objetos pusieron en barcas, los 5 colocaron, los metieron en ellas.

Y metidos ya en sus canoas, por el río fueron, llegaron a las barcas de aquéllos (de los españoles), se repegaron ¹ a sus barcas.

Ellos (los españoles) les dijeron:

10 –¿Quiénes sois vosotros? ¿De dónde vinisteis?
–Hemos venido de México.

Otra vez les dijeron:

–Puede ser o no ser que vosotros de allá procedáis ², o tal vez no más lo inventáis; tal vez no 15 más de nosotros os estáis burlando.

Pero su corazón se convenció, quedó satisfecho su corazón. Luego pusieron un gancho en la proa de la nave; con ella los levantaron estirando, luego pararon una escala. ³

20 Por tanto, subieron a la nave. Iban llevando en los barcos los objetos. Uno a uno hicieron la ceremonia de tocar la tierra con la boca delante del capitán (o sea, hicieron reverencia y juramento).

En seguida le hacen una arenga ⁴, le dicen:

25 –Dígnese ⁵ oírlo el dios: viene a rendir homenaje su lugarteniente Motecuhzoma. El tiene en cargo la ciudad de México. Dice: “Cansado ha quedado, fatigado está el dios.”

En seguida atavían ⁶ al capitán. Le pusieron con
30 esmero la máscara de turquesa, en ella estaba fijada la banda travesaña ⁷ de pluma de quetzal. [. . .]

También le dieron, en su mano le pusieron el escudo que tiene travesaño de oro y de concha nácar, con sus flecos ⁸ de pluma de quetzal y sus banderolas 35 de lo mismo.

Ante su vista pusieron las sandalias de obsidiana.
[. . .]

Así las cosas, díjoles el capitán:

² proceder: venir; descender

³ escala: parada, puerto

⁴ arenga: discurso; proclamación

⁵ dignarse: aceptar; acceder

⁶ ataviar: vestir; cubrir

⁷ banda travesaña: adorno; insignia

⁸ fleco: cordón

–¿Acaso ésta es toda vuestra ofrenda de 40 bienvenida? ¿Aquello con que os llegáis a las personas?
Dijeron ellos:
–Es todo: con eso hemos venido, señor nuestro.

Section II: Free-Response

The following are examples of the kinds of free-response questions found on the exam. Note that on the actual AP Exam, there will be two short-answer questions and two essay questions.

Short-Answer: Text Explanation (Free-Response Question 1)

Directions: Write a coherent and well-organized response IN SPANISH on the topic that appears below.

Instrucciones: Escribe una respuesta coherente y bien organizada EN ESPAÑOL sobre el siguiente tema.

Identifica al autor y la época de este fragmento. Luego, explica el desarrollo del tema de las sociedades en contacto dentro de la obra a la que pertenece.

La noche buena se aproxima y la radio igualmente que la bocina de la camioneta que anunciaba las películas del Teatro Ideal parecían empujarla con canción, negocio y bendición. Faltaban tres días para la noche buena cuando doña María se decidió comprarles algo a sus niños. Esta sería la primera vez que les compraría juguetes. Cada año se proponía hacerlo pero siempre terminaba diciéndose que no, que no podían. Su esposo de todas maneras les traía dulces y nueces a cada uno, así que racionalizaba que en realidad no les faltaba nada. Sin embargo cada Navidad preguntaban los niños por sus juguetes. Ella siempre los apaciguaba con lo de siempre. Les decía que se esperaran hasta el seis de enero, el día de los reyes magos y así para cuando se llegaba ese día ya hasta se les había olvidado todo a los niños. También había notado que sus hijos apreciaban menos y menos la venida de don Chon la noche de Navidad cuando venía con el costal de naranjas y nueces.

Essay: Text Comparison (Free-Response Question 4)

Directions: Write a coherent and well-organized essay IN SPANISH on the topic that appears below.

Instrucciones: Escribe una ensayo coherente y bien organizada EN ESPAÑOL sobre el siguiente tema.

Analiza el efecto de los recursos literarios que las poetisas emplean en los dos poemas para desarrollar el tema de la imagen pública y la imagen privada. En tu ensayo, compara la presentación de este tema en los dos poemas. Debes incluir ejemplos de los textos que apoyen tus ideas.

Poema 1

A Julia de Burgos

[...] Tú eres de tu marido, de tu amo; yo no;
yo de nadie, o de todos, porque a todos,
a todos, en mi limpio sentir y en mi pensar me doy.

Tú te rizas el pelo y te pintas; yo no;
a mí me riza el viento, a mí me pinta el sol.
Tú eres dama casera, resignada, sumisa,
atada a los prejuicios de los hombres; yo no;
que yo soy Rocinante corriendo desbocado
olfateando horizontes de justicia de Dios.

- 10 Tú en ti misma no mandas; a ti todos te mandan;
en ti mandan tu esposo, tus padres, tus parientes,
el cura, la modista, el teatro, el casino,
el auto, las alhajas, el banquete, el champán,
el cielo y el infierno, y el qué dirán social.
- 15 En mí no, que en mí manda mi solo corazón,
mi solo pensamiento; quien manda en mí soy yo. [...]

Julia de Burgos

(Se publicó por primera vez en 1938 en Poema en veinte surcos).

Poema 2

Grito indomable

- Cómo van a verme buena
si me truena
la vida en las venas.
- Verso* ¡Si toda canción
5 se me enreda ¹ como una llamarada ²!,
y vengo sin Dios
y sin miedo. . .
- ¡Si tengo sangre insubordinada
y no puedo mostrarme
- 10 dócil como una criada,
mientras tenga
un recuerdo de horizonte,
un retazo ³ de cielo,
y una cresta ⁴ de monte!
- 15 Ni tú ni el cielo
ni nada
podrán con mi grito indomable.

Scoring Rubrics for Free-Response Questions

Free-Response Question 1: Text Explanation

CONTENT

- 3 The response correctly identifies the author and the period and effectively explains the development of the theme in the text.
- Identifies correctly the author and the period.
 - Effectively explains the development of the theme in the text.
 - Supports response with relevant evidence from the text.
- 2 The response correctly identifies either the author or the period and explains the development of the theme in the text; description and narration are present but do not outweigh explanation.

- Identifies correctly either the author or the period.
- Explains the development of the theme in the text.
- Supports response with evidence from the text, but evidence may not be clear or relevant.

Note: A response that fails to correctly identify both the author and the period must have a good explanation of the development of the theme in the text in order to earn a score of 2.

- 1 The response incorrectly identifies the author and/or the period; response does not successfully explain the development of the theme in the text; description and narration outweigh explanation; irrelevant comments may predominate.

- Fails to correctly identify the author and/or the period.
- Attempts to explain the development of the theme in the text.
- Fails to adequately support response with textual evidence.

Note: A response that correctly identifies the author and/or the period but does not explain the development of the theme in the text cannot earn a score higher than 1.

- 0 The response is so brief or so poorly written as to be meaningless, is not in Spanish, or is otherwise off-task.

Note: A response that merely restates part or all of the prompt receives a score of 0. A response that receives a 0 in content must also receive a 0 in language.

— Response is blank.

Note: A response that receives a (—) in content must also receive a (—) in language.

LANGUAGE USAGE

3 Language usage is appropriate to the task, generally accurate, and varied; the reader’s understanding of the response is clear and supported by the student’s use of language.

- Vocabulary is varied and appropriate to the topic or works being discussed.
- Control of grammatical and syntactic structures is very good in spite of a few errors; use of verb tenses and mood is generally accurate; word order and formation are generally accurate.
- There are very few errors in conventions of written language (e.g., spelling, accent marks, punctuation).

2 Language usage is appropriate to the task and sometimes accurate; the reader understands the response, although the student’s use of language is somewhat limited.

- Vocabulary is appropriate to the topics or works being discussed but may limit the student’s ability to present relevant ideas.
- Control of grammatical and syntactic structures is adequate, but there are some errors; errors in the use of verb tenses and moods are frequent, but do not detract from overall understanding; there are occasional errors in word order and formation.
- There are some errors in conventions of written language (e.g., spelling, accent marks, punctuation), but they do not impede communication.

1 Language usage is inappropriate to the task, inaccurate, or insufficient; the reader struggles to create an understanding of the response.

- Vocabulary is insufficient or inappropriate to the topics or works being discussed; errors render comprehension difficult.
- Control of grammatical and syntactic structures is inadequate; errors in verb forms, word order, and formation are frequent and impede comprehension.
- There are frequent errors in conventions of written language (e.g., spelling, accent marks, punctuation) that impede communication.

0 The response is so brief or so poorly written as to be meaningless, is not in Spanish, or is otherwise off-task.

Note: A response that merely restates part or all of the prompt receives a score of 0. A response that receives a 0 in content must also receive a 0 in language.

— Response is blank.

Note: A response that receives a (—) in content must also receive a (—) in language.

Free-Response Question 2: Text and Art Comparison

CONTENT

- 3 The response effectively compares the theme in both works and relates the theme of the text and the artwork to the topic of the question.
- Effectively compares the theme in both works.
 - Effectively relates the theme of the text and artwork to the topic of the question.
 - Supports response with relevant evidence from both works.
- 2 The response compares the theme in both works and relates the theme to the topic of the question; description outweighs comparison.
- Compares the theme in both works, but description of the elements of both works outweighs comparison.
 - Relates the theme of the text and artwork to the topic of the question, but the connection among these elements may not be clear.
 - Supports response with evidence from both works, but evidence may not be clear or relevant.

Note: If the response does not relate the theme to the topic of the question, the comparison of the theme between the text and the artwork must be effective to earn a score of 2.

- 1 The response attempts to compare the theme in both works and/or attempts to relate the theme to the topic of the question; description outweighs comparison; irrelevant comments may predominate.
- Attempts to compare the theme in both works, yet the response is incomplete or insufficient.
 - Attempts to relate the theme of the text and artwork to the topic of the question, yet the response is incomplete or insufficient.
 - Does not provide supporting evidence from both works.

Note: A response that discusses the theme only in the text or the artwork, or a response that only discusses Realism cannot receive a score higher than 1.

- 0 The response is so brief or so poorly written as to be meaningless, is not in Spanish, or is otherwise off-task.

Note: A response that merely restates part or all of the prompt receives a score of 0. A response that receives a 0 in content must also receive a 0 in language.

- Response is blank.

Free-Response Question 3: Essay – Single Text

CONTENT

- 5 The essay clearly analyzes how the text represents both the specified subgenre and the given cultural context.
- Analyzes how characteristics of the text represent the specified subgenre.
 - Analyzes how cultural products, practices, or perspectives found in the text reflect the given cultural context.
 - Effectively discusses a variety of rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in the text.
 - Includes an explicit statement of purpose (thesis), a coherent structure, and a cohesive and logical progression of ideas in a well-developed essay.
 - Supports analysis by integrating specific, well-chosen textual examples throughout the essay.
- 4 The essay analyzes how the text represents both the specified subgenre and the given cultural context; description and narration are present but do not outweigh analysis.
- Explains how characteristics of the text represent the specified subgenre.
 - Explains how cultural products, practices, or perspectives found in the text relate to the given cultural context.
 - Discusses rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in the text.
 - Includes an explicit statement of purpose (thesis), a coherent structure, and a logical progression of ideas.
 - Supports analysis with appropriate textual examples.
- 3 The essay attempts to analyze how the text represents the specified subgenre and the given cultural context; however, description and narration outweigh analysis.
- Describes characteristics of the text that represent the specified subgenre.
 - Describes cultural products, practices, or perspectives of the given cultural context found in the text.
 - Describes some rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in the text.
 - Includes a statement of purpose, evidence of organization (a stated topic, an introduction, a conclusion), and a logical progression of ideas.
 - Elaborates on main points and supports observations with examples; however, the examples may not always be clear and relevant.
 - Contains some errors of interpretation, but errors do not detract from the overall quality of the essay.

Note:

A. If the essay has a significantly unbalanced focus on either the specified subgenre or the given cultural context and discusses rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features, the analysis must be good to earn a score of 3.

- B. If the essay has a balanced focus on both the specified subgenre and the cultural context but does not discuss rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features, the analysis must be good to earn a score of 3.
- C. If the essay focuses only on either the specified subgenre or the given cultural context and discusses rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features, the analysis of either the specified subgenre or the given cultural context and the discussion of the rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features must be good to earn a score of 3.

2 The essay shows little ability to analyze how the text represents the specified subgenre and the given cultural context; summary and paraphrasing predominate.

- Identifies characteristics of the text that represent the specified subgenre but they may not be clear or relevant.
- Identifies cultural products, practices, or perspectives of the given cultural context found in the text but they may not be clear or relevant.
- Identifies rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in the text but they may not be relevant.
- May not clearly state a purpose or be organized around a central idea or argument; progression of ideas may not be logical.
- Presents main points and some details, describes basic elements of the text, but may do so without examples or supporting an argument.
- Contains some errors of interpretation that occasionally detract from the overall quality of the essay.

Note: An essay that treats only the specified subgenre or the given cultural context without mentioning the rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features cannot receive a score higher than 2.

1 The essay is inaccurate and insufficient; there is no attempt to analyze how the text represents the specified subgenre and the given cultural context; irrelevant comments predominate.

- Demonstrates lack of understanding of characteristics of the text that represent the specified subgenre.
- Demonstrates lack of understanding of the text, or cultural products, practices, or perspectives of the given cultural context found in the text.
- May not identify rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in the text.
- Does not state a purpose, show evidence of organization, or offer a progression of ideas.
- May consist entirely of summary or paraphrasing of the text without examples relevant to the subgenre or the given cultural context.
- Contains frequent errors of interpretation that significantly detract from the overall quality of the essay.

0 The response is so brief or so poorly written as to be meaningless, is not in Spanish, or is otherwise off-task.

Note: An essay that merely restates part or all of the prompt receives a score of 0. An essay that receives a 0 in content must also receive a 0 in language.

— Page is blank.

Note: An essay that receives a (—) in content must also receive a (—) in language.

LANGUAGE USAGE

5 Language usage is appropriate to the task, generally accurate, and varied; the reader’s understanding of the response is clear and supported by the student’s use of language.

- Vocabulary is varied and appropriate to the text(s) being discussed, presents main ideas and supporting details, and communicates some nuances of meaning.
- Control of grammatical and syntactic structures is very good; use of verb tenses and moods is generally accurate; word order and formation are accurate; use of cohesive devices and transitional elements or both is appropriate to guide understanding.
- Writing conventions (e.g., spelling, accent marks, punctuation, paragraphing) are generally accurate; paragraphing shows grouping and progression of ideas.

4 Language usage is appropriate to the task and generally accurate; the reader’s understanding of the response is clear and not affected by errors in the student’s use of language.

- Vocabulary is appropriate to the text(s) being discussed and presents main ideas and some supporting details.
- Control of grammatical and syntactic structures is good; occasional errors in the use of verb tenses and moods do not detract from understanding; word order and formation are mostly accurate.
- Writing conventions (e.g., spelling, accent marks, punctuation, paragraphing) are generally accurate; occasional errors do not detract from understanding; paragraphing shows grouping and progression of ideas.

3 Language usage is appropriate to the task and sometimes accurate; the reader understands the response though the student’s use of language is somewhat limited.

- Vocabulary is appropriate to the text(s) being discussed but may limit the student’s ability to present some relevant ideas.
- Control of grammatical and syntactic structures is adequate; errors in the use of verb tenses and moods may be frequent but do not detract from overall understanding; word order and formation are generally accurate.
- Writing conventions (e.g., spelling, accent marks, punctuation, paragraphing) are sometimes accurate; numerous errors do not detract from overall understanding; paragraphing shows grouping of ideas.

2 Language usage is sometimes inappropriate to the task and generally inaccurate; the reader must supply inferences to make the response understandable.

- Vocabulary may be inappropriate to the text(s) being discussed and forces the reader to supply inferences.
- Control of grammatical and syntactic structures is weak; errors in verb forms, word order, and formation are numerous and serious enough to impede comprehension at times.
- Writing conventions (e.g., spelling, accent marks, punctuation, paragraphing) are generally inaccurate; errors are numerous and serious enough to impede comprehension at times; paragraphing may not show grouping of ideas.

1 Language usage is inappropriate to the task, inaccurate, or insufficient; the reader struggles to create an understanding of the response.

- Vocabulary is insufficient or inappropriate to the text(s) being discussed; errors render comprehension difficult.
- Control of grammatical and syntactic structures is inadequate; errors in verb forms, word order, and formation are nearly constant and impede comprehension frequently.
- Writing conventions (e.g., spelling, accent marks, punctuation, paragraphing) are inaccurate; errors are nearly constant and impede comprehension frequently; there may be little or no evidence of paragraphing.

0 The response is so brief or so poorly written as to be meaningless, is not in Spanish, or is otherwise off-task.

Note: An essay that merely restates part or all of the prompt receives a score of 0. An essay that receives a 0 in content must also receive a 0 in language.

Note: An essay that receives a (—) in content must also receive a (—) in language.

Free-Response Question 4: Essay – Text Comparison

CONTENT

5 The essay clearly analyzes the literary devices and compares the theme in both texts.

- Effectively analyzes rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in both texts in relation to the development of the theme.
- Analyzes the development of the theme in both texts to support comparative analysis.
- Includes an explicit statement of purpose (thesis), a coherent structure, and a cohesive and logical progression of ideas in a well-developed essay.
- Supports analysis by integrating specific, well-chosen textual examples throughout the essay.

4 The essay analyzes the literary devices and compares the theme in both texts; description and narration are present but do not outweigh analysis.

- Discusses rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in both texts in relation to the development of the theme.
- Explains and compares the presence of the theme in both texts.
- Includes an explicit statement of purpose (thesis), a coherent structure, and a logical progression of ideas.
- Supports analysis with appropriate textual examples.

3 The essay attempts to analyze the literary devices and compare the theme in both texts; however, description and narration outweigh analysis.

- Describes some rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in both texts and attempts to explain their relevance to the theme.
- Describes the presence of the theme in both texts.
- Includes a statement of purpose, evidence of organization (a stated topic, an introduction, a conclusion), and a logical progression of ideas.
- Elaborates on main points and supports observations with examples; however, the examples may not always be clear and relevant.
- Contains some errors of interpretation, but errors do not detract from the overall quality of the essay.

Note:

- A. If the essay has a significantly unbalanced focus on one of the texts, the analysis must be good to merit a 3.
- B. If the essay does not include literary devices, the comparison of the theme in both texts must be good to merit a 3.
- C. If the essay suggests a lack of understanding of the theme, the analysis of literary devices in both texts must be good to merit a 3.

2 The essay shows little ability to analyze the literary devices or compare both texts; summary and paraphrasing predominate.

- May identify some rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in one or both texts, but may not explain their relevance to the theme.
- Describes the presence of the theme in one text, but the description of the theme in the other text is weak.

La noche buena se aproxima y la radio igualmente que la bocina de la camioneta que anunciaba las películas del Teatro Ideal parecían empujarla con canción, negocio y bendición. Faltaban tres días para la noche buena cuando doña María se decidió comprarles algo a sus niños. Esta sería la primera vez que les compraría juguetes. Cada año se proponía hacerlo pero siempre terminaba diciéndose que no, que no podían. Su esposo de todas maneras les traía dulces y nueces a cada uno, así que racionalizaba que en realidad no les faltaba nada. Sin embargo cada Navidad preguntaban los niños por sus juguetes. Ella siempre los apaciguaba con lo de siempre. Les decía que se esperaran hasta el seis de enero, el día de los reyes magos y así para cuando se llegaba ese día ya hasta se les había olvidado todo a los niños. También había notado que sus hijos apreciaban menos y menos la venida de don Chon la noche de Navidad cuando venía con el costal de naranjas y nueces.

Question 4: Essay - Text Comparison

Directions: Write a coherent and well-organized essay IN SPANISH on the topic that appears below.

Instrucciones: Escribe una ensayo coherente y bien organizada EN ESPAÑOL sobre el siguiente tema.

Analiza el efecto de los recursos literarios que las poetisas emplean en los dos poemas para desarrollar el tema de la imagen pública y la imagen privada. En tu ensayo, compara la presentación de este tema en los dos poemas. Debes incluir ejemplos de los textos que apoyen tus ideas.

Poema 1

A Julia de Burgos

[. . .] Tú eres de tu marido, de tu amo; yo no;
yo de nadie, o de todos, porque a todos,
a todos, en mi limpio sentir y en mi pensar me doy.

- Línea 5 Tú te rizas el pelo y te pintas; yo no;
a mí me riza el viento, a mí me pinta el sol.
Tú eres dama casera, resignada, sumisa,
atada a los prejuicios de los hombres; yo no;
que yo soy Rocinante corriendo desbocado
olfateando horizontes de justicia de Dios.
10 Tú en ti misma no mandas; a ti todos te mandan;
en ti mandan tu esposo, tus padres, tus parientes,
el cura, la modista, el teatro, el casino,
el auto, las alhajas, el banquete, el champán,
el cielo y el infierno, y el qué dirán social.
15 En mí no, que en mí manda mi solo corazón,
mi solo pensamiento; quien manda en mí soy yo. [. . .]

Julia de Burgos

Approved by the estate representative.

(Se publicó por primera vez en 1938 en Poema en veinte surcos).

Poema 2

Grito indomable

Cómo van a verme buena
si me truenan
la vida en las venas.

Verso
5 ¡Si toda canción
se me enreda ¹ como una llamarada ²!,
y vengo sin Dios
y sin miedo. . .
¡Si tengo sangre insubordinada
y no puedo mostrarme
10 dócil como una criada,
mientras tenga
un recuerdo de horizonte,
un retazo ³ de cielo,
y una cresta ⁴ de monte!
15 Ni tú ni el cielo
ni nada
podrán con mi grito indomable.

Describes the presence of the theme in one text, but the description of the theme in the other text is weak. May not clearly state a purpose or be organized around a central idea or argument; progression of ideas may not be logical. Presents main points and some details, describes basic elements of texts, but may do so without examples or supporting an argument. Contains some errors of interpretation that occasionally detract from the overall quality of the essay. See note D	The essay attempts to analyze the literary devices and compare the theme in the texts; however, description and narration outweigh analysis. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Describes some rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in both texts and attempts to explain their relevance to the theme. Describes the presence of the theme in both texts. Includes a statement of purpose, evidence of organization (a stated topic, an introduction, a conclusion), and a logical progression of ideas. Elaborates on main points and supports observations with examples; however, the examples may not always be clear and relevant. Contains some errors of interpretation, but errors do not detract from the overall quality of the essay. See notes A, B, C	The essay analyzes the literary devices and compares the theme in the texts; description and narration are present but do not outweigh analysis. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Discusses rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in both texts in relation to the development of the theme. Explains and compares the presence of the theme in the texts. Includes an explicit statement of purpose (thesis), a coherent structure, and a logical progression of ideas. Supports analysis with appropriate textual examples. 	The essay clearly analyzes the literary devices and compares the theme in the texts. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Effectively analyzes rhetorical, stylistic, or structural features in both texts in relation to the development of the theme. Analyzes the development of the theme in both texts to support comparative analysis. Includes an explicit statement of purpose (thesis), a coherent structure, and a cohesive and logical progression of ideas in a well-developed essay. Supports analysis by integrating specific, well-chosen textual examples throughout the essay.

0 (zero) response is so brief or so poorly written as to be meaningless, is not in Spanish, or is otherwise off-task.

Note: A response that merely restates part or all of the prompt or stimuli receives a score of 0. An essay that receives a 0 in content must also receive a 0 in language.

Decision Rules and Scoring Notes

- A. If the essay has a significantly unbalanced focus on one of the texts, the analysis must be good to merit a 3.
- B. If the essay does not include literary devices, the comparison of the theme in the texts must be good to merit a 3.
- C. If the essay suggests a lack of understanding of the theme, the analysis of literary devices in both texts must be good to merit a 3.
- D. An essay that treats only one text cannot earn a score higher than 2.
